NOTICE OF CIVIL CLAIM

[Rule 22-3 of the Supreme Court Civil Rules applies to all forms.]

This action has been started by the Plaintiff for the relief set out in Part 2 below.

If you intend to respond to this action, you or your lawyer must

- (a) file a response to civil claim in Form 2 in the above-named registry of this court within the time for response to civil claim described below, and
- (b) serve a copy of the filed response to civil claim on the plaintiff.

If you intend to make a counterclaim, you or your lawyer must

- (a) file a response to civil claim in Form 2 and a counterclaim in Form 3 in the above-named registry of this court within the time for response to civil claim described below, and

- (b) serve a copy of the filed response to civil claim and counterclaim on the plaintiff and on any new parties named in the counterclaim.

JUDGMENT MAY BE PRONOUNCED AGAINST YOU IF YOU FAIL to file the response to civil claim within the time for response to civil claim described below.

Time for response to civil claim

A response to civil claim must be filed and served on the plaintiff(s),

- (a) if you reside anywhere in Canada, within 21 days after the date on which a copy of the filed notice of civil claim was served on you,
- (b) if you reside in the United States of America, within 35 days after the date on which a copy of the filed notice of civil claim was served on you,
- (c) if you reside elsewhere, within 49 days after the date on which a copy of the filed notice of civil claim was served on you, or
- (d) if the time for response to civil claim has been set by order of the court, within that time.

Claim of the Plaintiff

Part 1: STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. The Plaintiff is a Canadian citizen and a truck driver who resides near Quesnel, British Columbia.
2. The Defendant is a Canadian citizen and an employee of Sparkling Hill Resort near Vernon, British Columbia.
3. The Defendant suffers from a mental illness or mental condition that requires medication and which is believed to be bipolar, or manic depressive, disorder.
4. On or about June 5, 2005, the Defendant was arrested by United States (US) police in Washington state in the act of transporting some 500 pounds of marijuana. He was released within 24 hours and not charged.

5. Glen Stewart is the owner of a property approximately 3 miles south of Yale which was being used in part for storage for three helicopters on the 21st of September, 2005. At approximately 9:20 AM on that date, Mr. Stewart was on a part of his property away from the storage building where the helicopters were being kept. He was working with a friend on repairing a vehicle.
6. While working on the vehicle as described above, Mr. Stewart noticed a helicopter landing out of his vision on the other side of the shed and a while later observed the Plaintiff talking to a man who he assumed was a friend of the Plaintiff. He approached the area to the point where the helicopter was then in his view and spoke with the man talking to the Plaintiff. He discovered that the man was an RCMP officer. The officer asked for a key to the storage building and Mr. Stewart refused to provide the key.
7. Mr. Stewart returned to working on the vehicle. He was on the property for over an hour working on the vehicle and then left. The RCMP were still on the property when he left and he has learned that they searched the storage building without a warrant after he left. When he left, the helicopter was still on a concrete pad in front of a door into the storage building.
8. At 9:45 AM on or about September 21, 2005, a US law enforcement officer observed a Robinson helicopter in an area in north central Washington state. The law enforcement officer did not observe the helicopter's registration or the helicopter land or meet any vehicle.
9. A short while later a vehicle was observed driving out of this area and followed to an area near Puyallup, Washington. It was stopped and some 1000 pounds of marijuana was seized. Two Canadian brothers named Miraback were arrested.
10. On or about the 10th of November, 2005, the Defendant was indicted along with one Tyrell Owens and charged with several counts related to the importation and distribution of marijuana. The US indictment contained a Notice of Criminal Forfeiture in regard to a Canadian Bell Jet Ranger helicopter with the registration C-FALQ. A warrant for the arrest of the Defendant was contemporaneously issued.

11. On the 11th of May, 2006, the Plaintiff was indicted in the US on three counts related to the importation and distribution of marijuana. The US indictment contained a Forfeiture Allegation which does not make any reference to any helicopter.
12. On the 9th of April, 2007, a Record of the Case in support of a request to Canada for the extradition of the Plaintiff was certified.
13. The Record of the Case dealt with the seizure of marijuana from the Miraback brothers and indicated that they were expected to testify that he was the pilot of a Robinson R44 model helicopter with registration C-FRKM that had delivered the marijuana that had been seized from them on September 21, 2005.
14. A Robertson R44 helicopter is not capable of lifting a 1000 pound load.
15. In the same record of the case, two RCMP officers who appear to be the same ones observed by Mr. Stewart on his property near Yale between 9:20 AM and 10:20AM or even later claim C-FRKM was sitting on the ground before them and confirm they were talking to Mr. Rosenau.
16. On the 16th of April, 2007, the Minister of Justice for Canada issued an authority to proceed based on the Record of the Case certified on the 9th of April, 2007.
17. The Plaintiff was subsequently arrested and spent three days in prison before being released on conditions which seriously affected his personal liberty.
18. By the 30th of May, 2008, the Defendant was in US custody. The US District Court of the Western District of Washington issued a detention order holding him in custody based in part on representations made that he was a danger to the public and a danger to flee.
19. On or about the 8th of August, 2008, the Defendant pleaded guilty to an altered version of the original indictment against him.

20. On the 17th of September, 2008, a superseding indictment against the Plaintiff was issued by a federal grand jury in Seattle, Washington. The only significant difference from the original indictment was that the amount of marijuana involved in the conspiracy charge was raised to more than 1,000 pounds from more than 100 pounds.
21. On the 7th of October, 2008, a Supplemental Record of the Case (SROC) was certified by Assistant US Attorney Susan Roe and forwarded to Canadian authorities.
22. In the SROC, Roe certifies that the expectation that the Miraback brothers were returning to testify in the US no longer existed.
23. The Defendant is introduced in the SROC. He is said to have returned voluntarily to the US and to have cooperated fully with agents of the US Department of Homeland Security. As it did with the Mirabacks, the SROC says that "Whelpley is expected to testify to the following."
24. In the enumeration of what the Defendant will testify to, the SROC says in part "In the summer of 2004, Whelpley received approximately seven loads of marijuana in the United States. Each load was brought across the international border by helicopter from Canada. Specifically, Whelpley saw a Robinson 44 helicopter, with a missing or taped-over tail number, which was used to smuggle the marijuana that summer. Whelpley identified the picture of that helicopter, tail number C-FRKM, which was referred to in the original Record. Each load consisted of 10 to 12 hockey bags which he estimated contained approximately 50 pounds each for a full load of approximately 500 to 600 pounds of marijuana. He was paid $7,000 per load and, that summer, he made $50,000 to $60,000 smuggling in this fashion before the smuggling season ended."
25. The balance of what the Defendant was expected to say had no such specifics as did his claimed statement about the summer of 2004 and the helicopter C-FRKM. He made a number of allegations about events in 2005 that were extremely vague, void of names or places, and which could not be contradicted by evidence adduced by the Plaintiff at his extradition hearing.

26. In the summer of 2004 and until July 5, 2005, the aircraft in question was owned by Airborne Energy Services Ltd., an Alberta company which is one of the largest suppliers of helicopters to the western Canadian oil and gas industry. All of its helicopters are equipped with satellite tracking which provides continuous information as to the position of the aircraft within several meters. These helicopters are almost exclusively based in northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories, a minimum of 700 kilometres from the area in which these offences are alleged to have occurred.
27. At the committal hearing before Mr. Justice Slade of the BC Supreme Court, held in Vancouver on May 15, 2009, the Plaintiff provided affidavit evidence from the President of Airborne, Anthony Hunley, to the effect that the helicopter was operated by Airborne for several years prior to 2004, up until July, 2005. Mr. Hunley deposed that the Plaintiff was never an employee of Airborne and did not have access to the helicopter during the summer of 2004 or at any time while it was registered to Airborne.
28. The Defendant claims that the Plaintiff also delivered marijuana to him in a red Bell Jet Ranger Helicopter on June 5, 2005. His evidence is contradicted by US law enforcement officials who observed the delivery flight and described the helicopter as being white.
29. The Plaintiff has been committed for extradition and the Minister of Justice has signed a surrender order. The Plaintiff now has an application for leave to appeal before the Supreme Court of Canada as a result of the decision of the BC Court of Appeal confirming the committal decision in the BC Supreme Court.
30. In its ruling, the BC Court of Appeal explicitly says the committal is based solely on the uncorroborated evidence of the Defendant.
31. The Defendant has been provided with a copy of the SROC containing what the US says he will testify to at a trial against the Plaintiff if he is extradited. He has not denied the American account of what he will testify to, and by implication, what he told law enforcement authorities and prosecutors in the United States.

32. The Plaintiff has incurred significant legal expenses since the first Record of the Case was withdrawn in favour of the SROC, based entirely on the false claims of the Defendant. The legal expenses incurred as a result of the Defendant's false claim in respect to helicopter smuggling in Robinson 44 C-FRKM total $70,000. Those expenses will continue to be incurred as the Plaintiff appeals to the Supreme Court of Canada on grounds primarily related to the false statements of the Defendant.
33. In addition to legal fee expenses, the Plaintiff has spent 18 days in prison in Canada, lost employment, and been subjected to an ongoing campaign of harassment by RCMP officers at Quesnel, British Columbia. The Plaintiff has suffered great emotional stress as a result of the extradition proceedings, which, as the Court of Appeal notes, are supported only by the statements, or claimed statements of the Defendant, and which are demonstrably false in the one instance in which specifics are given.

Part 2: RELIEF SOUGHT

1. General Damages
2. Specific Damages for legal expenses and loss of income that continue to accrue at the time of filing of this Notice of Civil Claim and will continue to accrue through a costly appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada in respect to the Minister of Justice's decision to surrender the Plaintiff to the US.
3. Punitive damages for false imprisonment and for malice in the event that the Defendant actually does return to the US to continue with his false statements against the Plaintiff.
4. An injunction against the Defendant prohibiting any attempt on his part to return to the US to continue his false and malicious attack against the Plaintiff.
5. Costs of the action

Part 3: LEGAL BASIS

1. The Plaintiff says that the Defendant contrived both in Canada and the United States to mitigate the consequences of his own criminal behaviour by bringing about the false and malicious prosecution of the Plaintiff in both Canada and the United States.
2. The Plaintiff says that American authorities suspected him of being involved in the Miraback matter based on the September 21, 2005 incident where RCMP spoke to the Plaintiff when he was observed standing near the Robinson 44 helicopter with registration letters C-FRKM near Yale, British Columbia. This incident resulted in the US authorities gaining access to a photograph of the Robinson helicopter C-FRKM.
3. The Plaintiff says that when the US authorities were forced to admit that their claim that the Miraback brothers were expected to testify to the Plaintiff's involvement was false, those authorities conspired with the Defendant to concoct the story about many loads of marijuana being flown to the US in the helicopter C-FRKM.
4. The Plaintiff says that this conspiracy was in part contrived to solve the problem then facing the US in that their Miraback case was the one for which the Minister of Justice had issued an authority to proceed with the Plaintiff's extradition. That authority to proceed had nothing to do with the Defendant. The only evidence the Mirabacks were supposedly to deliver was that they had identified the Plaintiff's picture as the pilot of helicopter C-FRKM. They allegedly provided this information while they were American captives facing long prison sentences if they did not come up with a story implicating others.
5. The Plaintiff says that when the truth came out that the Mirabacks were not going to say anything the US authorities attributed to them, the authority to proceed was essentially extinguished as there was no evidence against the Plaintiff. The US then went to another captive, the Defendant. This captive was not only facing the same ten year minimum sentence as the Mirabacks had been, he was also suffering from bipolar disorder.
6. The Plaintiff says that there is a very close correlation between bipolar disorder and lying behaviour. Lying and bipolar disorder seem to go hand in hand for most manic-depressives and this association is grounded in more than one source. One obvious reason for the association between lying and bipolar disorder is fear. Almost every lie is rooted in fear- the fear of some possible punishment.

7. The Plaintiff says that the US authorities intimidated the Defendant into falsely identifying the helicopter C-FRKM and signing on to the story that this was the helicopter that had delivered him several loads of marijuana in 2004 and early 2005, then US authorities would significantly reduce his sentence. That story is demonstrably false and a total fabrication.
8. The Plaintiff says the facts fully support that contention. The Defendant, although admitting to being involved in the distribution of some 14,000 pounds of marijuana and facing a minimum ten year sentence, was allowed to plead guilty to a lesser amount of marijuana and received 21 months imprisonment, including time served.
9. The Plaintiff says that this fabrication in exchange for a reduced sentence was one which had the purpose of establishing a continuous and false link between the single event of September 21, 2005, the event which precipitated the Minister of Justice's authority to proceed, and the totally uncorroborated claims of the Defendant in respect to helicopter smuggling in 2004 and early 2005.
10. The Plaintiff says that he understands and has sympathy for Canadians who become captives in the US law enforcement system and who can be placed under enormous stress and pressure to implicate innocent persons. He understands that this problem is endemic in the US criminal justice system, and that the Defendant suffers from problems of a mental health nature.
11. The Plaintiff says, however that, the Defendant is now back in Canada, is under no compulsion from the US legal authorities, is fully aware of what he is alleged to have done, and refuses to put it right and instead chooses to allow the harm he has done to the Plaintiff to continue.
12. The Plaintiff further says that as the Defendant is entirely free to refuse to continue on with this persecution by returning to the US at some future time and perjuring himself at such a trial with the false information about the helicopter used in 2004, or other false information, any such return should normally attract a very high level of punitive damages.

13. The Plaintiff says that damages are not a suitable recourse against the Defendant returning to the US to further this malicious prosecution and says that injunction is the proper remedy against the harm that such a return would bring about.
14. The Plaintiff says that the Defendant has engaged in a false and malicious prosecution and persecution of the Plaintiff both in Canada and the United States and that the Defendant is liable at law for the damages the Plaintiff has suffered as a result.

I will accept it by mail, and yes I have no desire to meet with anyone in person in regards to this matter... this may be a continued part of others lives sir but as far as im concerned.... This is my past and a crappy one at that... I prefer to leave it that way and have no involvement with any of it....Im in the process of creating a new life for myself that does not involve such people and events and would very much like to keep it that way if possible... Thank you for understanding this...
You and Mr Botting have my address please feel free to send me what you must but this will be the last email communication or response you will receive from me..

Respectfully

Kip

Thank you.

I do understand your situation and your reluctance to meet people who might be a danger to you. I assure you that Mr. Rosenau, Mr. Botting, and myself are, and always will be, acting within the law in all of our dealings with you.

I know of some of the other people alleged to be involved in this mess and as far as I can tell, no one intends to do you any harm and that is more so now that I have let it be known that you have said you do not intend to return to the US. I stress the words "as far as I can tell" and would urge you to contact the RCMP immediately if you feel under threat.

Let me know if you will accept service by registered mail, and that will save you having to meet anyone.

Subject: Notice of Civil Claim

WITHOUT PREJUDICE

Hi Kip,

I see from Canada Post that the Notice of Civil Claim filed in the Quesnel Registry of the Supreme Court of BC has been served at the address you gave.

I firstly want to make it clear that Mr. Botting does not act in any way in this civil matter. He is Mr. Rosenau's counsel in the extradition process only.

I am assisting Mr. Rosenau as what has come to be called an "agent" in civil matters in the Supreme Court. Many people now use unpaid agents due to the extraordinary expense of lawyers and take the view that it is better to have a friend or other associate who may have a greater level of legal knowledge handle these matters, which are fairly straightforward, than to try and do it themselves. As an example, it was I who drafted the Notice of Civil Claim.

If you wish to engage such a person at this preliminary stage to save legal expenses in a matter that may well be resolved short of trial, or even to conduct your own case, I would be happy to deal with that person or yourself in doing basically the same things that counsel do when retained. I cannot give your agent or yourself legal advice, but I can provide you with clarification on matters related to the claim, and I can hear your side of the story if you choose to give it under the Without Prejudice qualification I attach to this email. Without Prejudice is a qualifier to anything written beneath those words in a written communication. It means that nothing thus said can ever be brought before a court and held against the party. There is not an equivalent term, other than "Off the record" for verbal communication, but you have my undertaking that anything that may be said by yourself or your agent will never be brought before a court and held to be proof of any fact or agreement. I would expect the same from yourself or your agent.

While the Notice may seem complex, and it is understood that you may not have knowledge one way or the other about some of the background facts, this claim centers on two factual issues. They are whether or not you identified a helicopter with the identification numbers C-FRKM as being a Robinson 44 helicopter that delivered seven 500-600 pound loads of marijuana to you in the summer of 2004, as the US prosecutor Roe says you did in her material before the court here. The other issue is her claim that she expects you to testify: We believe that expectation has no factual basis now that you are in Canada and under no legal obligation under Canadian law to return. Mr. Rosenau can easily prove that C-FRKM could not have ever been used for any such activity in 2004. I personally doubt that you ever said what Roe says you did, or in the alternative believe that the US authorities threatened and coerced you into signing a prepared admission and in those circumstances you felt compelled to go along with their lie. That would certainly be considered a mitigating factor if this matter were to be resolved at this early stage. The history of these sad adventures involving the exploitation of people such as yourselves is that virtually everyone cooperates and as is the saying in my Irish homeland, people develop such good memories that they can remember things that never even happened.

I do recall you saying that you did not then intend to return to the United States, in which case I expect you would not object to that part of the Relief Sought which is a court order prohibiting your return to repeat this false allegation against Mr. Rosenau in a US court, which would be an act of extreme malice towards Mr. Rosenau.

Those are the only two issues in this matter and I am presently proceeding on the basis that you wish to make an honest resolution of this matter by addressing any falsehoods that appear in the American Supplemental Record of the case and which form the basis of Mr. Rosenau's claim. You may do so in your Response to Civil Claim, or prior to that by you or your agent corresponding with me.

Regards,

Padraig.

Attention: Mr. Gary Botting

Dear Sirs:

RE: Henry Rosenau v. Kip Whelpley
BC Supreme Court Quesnel Registry Action # 14781

1. I am retained by Kip Whelpley. I understand that Gary Botting is counsel for Mr. Rosenau with respect to extradition proceedings to the US. I understand that Padraig Mac Roibeaird purports to be an agent for Mr. Rosenau with respect to civil proceedings.
2. Enclosed for Mr. Botting are copies of e-mails between Mr. Roibeaird and Mr. Whelpley as follows:
 - a. January 8, 2011 from Mr. Roibeaird to Mr. Whelpley;
 - b. January 9, 2011 from Mr. Roibeaird to Mr. Whelpley;
 - c. January 18, 2011 from Mr. Whelpley to Mr. Roibeaird and from Mr. Roibeaird to Mr. Whelpley;
 - d. February 7, 2011 from Mr. Roibeaird to Mr. Whelpley.
3. I also enclose a copy of the Notice of Civil Claim filed in the Quesnel registry January 31, 2011. This document was drafted by Mr. Roibeaird. In my respectful view Mr. Roibeaird may be practising law without a licence. That however is entirely incidental.

Mr. Gary Botting
Padraig Mac Roibeaird
February 15, 2011

4. In his e-mail January 8 Mr. Roibeaird makes it clear that if Mr. Whelpley does not confer with Mr. Botting and provide appropriate information to Mr. Botting that a civil claim will ensue. In this e-mail Mr. Roibeaird accuses Mr. Whelpley of giving false testimony.
5. By his January 18 e-mail Mr. Roibeaird makes a clear threat of harm or danger to Mr. Whelpley. Mr. Roibeaird also allies himself with Mr. Botting in his dealings with Mr. Whelpley.
6. In his e-mail February 7 Mr. Roibeaird offers to compromise the civil action by, inter alia, having Mr. Whelpley agree to recant evidence previously given.
7. The Notice of Civil Claim by itself is extortionary and an abuse of the court process.
8. The emails contain veiled but clear threats of harm to Mr. Whelpley and his family.
9. Taken as a whole the e-mails and the Notice of Civil Claim amount to an attempt to intimidate and to extort conduct from Mr. Whelpley. They are scandalous and vexatious within the meaning of Rule 9-5 of the Supreme Court Civil Rules. They probably amount to an abuse of the process of the court. They are also defamatory.
10. Would Mr. Botting please indicate by return fax that he will file a Notice of Discontinuance forthwith in the Quesnel registry and provide a copy to me.
11. In the alternative please do not take any default proceedings against Mr. Whelpley but provide me adequate written notice so that the appropriate Response and application under Rule 9-5 may be made.
12. If a court application is required we put you on notice that a copy of this letter will be filed and an order for special costs sought.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Kip Whelpley 1. By fax February 17 Mr. Botting refuses to get involved in the civil action. I enclose a copy. Enclosed is my further letter to Mr. Botting and Mr. Mac Roibeaird dead lining a Notice of Discontinuance for February 25.

2. If the action is not discontinued it is my advice that a court application should be made immediately to have the action dismissed. I can prepare the paper work, The cost of sending me to Quesnel is significant. Mr. Whelpley can attend at court in Quesnel on his own and speak to the matter.

3. The cost of paperwork will be $1,500.

4. Can you let me know what you would like to do?

Dear Sirs:

BC Supreme Court Quesnel Registry Action # 14781

1. By letter February 15 I asked Mr. Gary Botting to seek instructions to file a Notice of Discontinuance in this matter. By e-mail February 19 Mr. Botting says that he does not act for Mr. Rosenau but will convey my concerns to Mr. Rosenau.

2. By this letter I am asking that Mr. Mac Roibeaird reply to my e-mail of February 15, 2011 and confirm that Mr. Mac Roibeaird will file a Notice of Discontinuance forthwith in the civil action and will deliver a filed copy to me.

3. If I have not received a filed Notice of Discontinuance by the close of business on February 25, 2011 I will seek instructions to make a court application to have the action dismissed and to claim special costs not only against Mr. Rosenau but against Mr. Mac Roibeaird.

4. I will be filing copies of my correspondence with Mr. Mac Roibeaird in an Affidavit as part of the court application.

Subject: Rosenau v. Whelpley

Kip,

I am in receipt of a letter addressed to Mr. Botting and copied to me from a person named Robert Moffat. In the letter, Mr. Moffat purports to be your lawyer and I do find that there is a lawyer in Vernon named Robert Moffat. Mr. Moffat does not say that he is instructed to receive service on your behalf and Mr. Rosenau has attended at the Supreme Court registry in Quesnel, where the action between you and he is filed and he has been told that there is no letter on file in the registry from either you or Mr. Moffat confirming that he is your counsel.

Neither you or Mr. Moffat filed a Notice of Response to Civil Claim within the time allowed. Accordingly, I am serving you with a copy of the default judgment approved by a Supreme Court justice in Quesnel on Monday, March 7th, 2011. As you can see, it provides general, punitive, and specific damages to be assessed, as well as an order that you be prohibited from leaving Canada for the purpose of going to the United States. If you weren't intending to go to the United States before, you now have a Supreme Court order prohibiting you from doing so in any case.

The Rules of Court provide that Mr. Rosenau may now make an ex parte application to the court to have the various damages assessed and to approve the form of the Order prohibiting you from returning to the United States until further order of the Court, which I expect will not be until Mr. Rosenau and his counsel are satisfied that you no longer will be a part of the false prosecution of Mr. Rosenau. Ex parte means that there is no requirement that you be provided with a notice of the application, or an opportunity to attend. However, Mr. Rosenau and I both remain sympathetic to the situation you must have found yourself in, compounded by your illness, and there is not a lack of understanding in that regard. It is my intention that the application include an Order that you appear for examination before a court reporter to answer questions as to the degree and method of coercion used against you and how you came to describe events in 2004 that could not possibly have happened. This examination will be used to determine the quantum of punitive damages, and to perhaps take other measures to ensure that neither you, or Ms. Roe engage in alternative means to procure false testimony from you in regard to the summer of 2004.

In the event that, as I expect, that examination produces the sympathetic view of your circumstances and demonstrates regret for what has happened, then I expect that certainly this sad affair will not have unfortunate financial hardship imposed upon you in addition to the other problems you have encountered. You will, of course, be prohibited from going to the United States for any reason, however, as you are probably aware, in normal circumstances you would not be allowed entry to the US at any rate.

What has happened to you, and what has happened to Mr. Rosenau, is of great political importance in this country in the light of how it demonstrates the ends to which the US will go to secure, or blatantly manufacture, false statements in extradition proceedings, and how Canadian courts and the Canadian minister of justice simply rubber stamp every extradition request. If you have an interest in speaking to the media on your treatment, Bob Keating, one of CBC's best radio and investigative reporters, would be very interested in hearing from you when this civil matter is concluded. With your permission, I will pass along your contact details to him, or I can provide you with his contacts.

I have taken exception to the tone of the person who either was Mr. Moffat, or was pretending to be Mr. Moffat (the stationary was just made up in a computer), and I am taking other steps as a result of his letter, or letters, I believe it was. I do not propose to engage him again on this matter and if I am forced to, I will take that as a demonstration of lack of remorse on your part and will not make inquiries as to the extenuating circumstances that might be relevant to the awards of damages. If you choose another counsel, I would be happy to hear what he or she has to say.

On a personal level, I have had a look at your Facebook page and the profile picture you currently have up. I have to say it gives me great cause for concern for how it portrays a grim world, a desperate sense of hopelessness, and the terrible resolution of that hopelessness. I hope you step back from that hopelessness and realize that it is hope and love that really exist where you now see that terrible picture. You are, from what I have heard, an intelligent person. You have many friends. I understand you have children of your own who undoubtedly love you. Do not despair over this civil matter. It is a natural resolution with an objective of an honest and just end.

When I was in my late teens, I fell into a bad situation that seemed hopeless. I received a letter from my father, who was far away. In it he said, "Remember, Pat, the greatest champions are those who come up off the canvas to win".

I hope to see that terrible picture gone by tomorrow.

"THIS COURT FURTHER ORDERS THAT Kip John Whelpley be prohibited from leaving Canada for the purpose of entering the United States of America until further order of this Court, with the form of the Order to be approved by the Court on application."

I have previously forwarded a copy of the Order of default judgment to you at this email and have had no response. The concern which now arises comes from information originating in the United States to the effect you may be considering defying the order of the Supreme Court of British Columbia and travelling to the United States in contravention of the Order.

I accept that this information may be provided falsely and maliciously by the US government, however it makes it necessary that I, as Mr. Rosenau's agent in this matter, either confirm your acknowledgment of receipt of the Order of March 7th, 2011 and your acknowledgment that you intend to abide by the terms of the Order, or that I take steps to serve the order on you and have independent confirmation of service in order that Mr. Rosenau may have legal recourse in the event you violate the terms of the Order.

I enclose again a scanned copy of the Order. Please acknowledge receipt of the Order here, and acknowledge your intent to comply with the terms of the prohibition section of the Order.

If I have not had acknowledgment by 9am tomorrow, Friday, October 21, 2011 I will forward the Order to the Sheriffs at Vernon courthouse and have them personally serve it on you. The fourth Order made by the Court is an order for costs, and the costs of service, if necessary, will be charged to you under this Order.

I can be contacted at this email if you intend to acknowledge service and compliance with the Order.

Case 2:06-cr-00157-MJP Document 51-1 Filed 10/28/11 Page 21 of 27

The following report was prepared by Cpl. Therese Cochlin
Royal Canadian Mounted Police - Integrated Border Enforcement Team, Surrey, BC

Summary of First Meeting with Mr. Glen Stewart:

On Thursday October 18, 2011, Cst. Bali and I attended Glen Stewart's residence located at 21386 Lakeview Crescent in Hope, British Columbia (BC) to ask if he would be willing to be a witness for the United States (US) in the prosecution involving Henry ROSENAU.

Mr. Stewart and his wife welcomed us into their home where we visited for approximately one hour. During this time Mr. Stewart said that he would be willing be a witness and agreed to meet with the Assistant US Attorney (AUSA) on October 25, 2011. During the course of the conversation, Mr. Stewart said that he had an agreement with "Henry" to sell him his property in Yale, but the deal had fallen through after the police attended the property. I asked him if he had any documents relating to the proposed sale, and Mr. Stewart responded "no" that he did most of his deals with a handshake.

Prior to departing, I let Mr. Stewart know that I would be back in touch with him to confirm the date and time of the meeting and he provided me with a business card with all of his contact information.

Summary of Second Meeting with Mr. Glen Stewart:

On Thursday October 20, 2011, Cst. Bali and I returned to Glen Stewart's residence in Hope, BC to set the date and time of the meeting with the AUSA for Wednesday, October 26, 2011 at 10am. Mr. Stewart indicated he would be able to attend. He also asked me a few questions about the extradition process, and, while I provided a general overview of the process, I suggested that he ask the AUSA any specific questions he had the following week.

Once again, Mr. Stewart and his wife welcomed us into their home, and other than a brief discussion about the ROSENAU case, we had a very light and pleasant chat about several topics not related to law enforcement (i.e. hiking, kayaking and wildlife). Upon departing, I confirmed the date and time of the meeting with Mr. Stewart and he seemed prepared to attend. Mr. Stewart and his wife also encouraged us to take an apple that had been picked at a local orchard for the drive home.

Summary of Telephone call from Mr. Glen Stewart:

On October 25, 2011 at approximately 1648 hours, Mr. Glen Stewart called and said he had spoken to his lawyer and had decided he would not be a witness for the ROSENAU case. I asked Mr. Stewart who his lawyer is and he said he couldn't remember. When I asked him further about it, he simply said he had been advised not to speak with the U. S. attorneys.

I asked Mr. Stewart if anyone had contacted him about this case and, once again, all he said is he had been "advised" not to talk to the U.S. and said he "...just didn't want to get into that." The total length of the call was only 3 or 4 minutes and it seemed to me like he wanted to deliver the news and hang up, which is in sharp contrast to how personable and hospitable he and his wife had been on the two occasions I met with them to set up the interview.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
Re the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms

REGINA

Respondent

v.

HENRY CARL ROSENAU

Applicant

TAKE NOTICE that an application will be made by HENRY CARL ROSENAU to the Court on Wednesday, November 2, 2011 at the Law Courts at 800 Smithe Street, Vancouver, British Columbia at 10 AM for the following Orders:

- 1) a declaration that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police ("RCMP") violated the Applicant's section 7 and 8 Charter rights to be free from unreasonable search and seizure by entering without authority or warrant issued under the provisions of section 10-15 of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act or Criminal Code onto a property leased by the Applicant at 29605 Trans Canada Highway, near Yale, British Columbia ("said property") on September 21, 2005, and there searching the Petitioner's person, a helicopter, and a building on said property, and seizing objects found in the warrantless search;
- 2) a declaration that by detaining the Applicant and questioning of him for two hours at said property between approximately 9:15 AM and 11:30 AM on September 21, 2005, the RCMP violated the Applicant's section 7, 9 and 10(a) and (b) Charter rights, including the right to be informed promptly of the reasons for detention, the right to retain and instruct counsel without delay, and the right to be informed of those rights;
- 3) an order in the nature of mandamus directing the RCMP to return to the Applicant any and all property seized as a result of the warrantless searches;
- 4) an order in the nature of mandamus directing the RCMP officers who conducted the illicit search without warrant and the interrogation of the Applicant without Charter warning, not to disclose to any foreign court or foreign prosecutorial authority any notes of any statement made by the Applicant in response to their questions that reasonably would have been excluded in Canadian proceedings pursuant to section 24(2) of the Charter;

- 5) an order in the nature of prohibition prohibiting the said officers of the RCMP from leaving Canada for the purposes of testifying in their official capacity, or at all, at a criminal court in the United States regarding Canadian evidence gathered in violation of sections 7 to 10 of the Charter and in the absence of a warrant or other due process governing search and seizure in such situations set out in sections 10 to 14 of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act;
- 6) an order in the nature of prohibition prohibiting the sending abroad of evidence seized in violation of the Charter without following the due process of "Sending Abroad" outlined in sections 15 to 21 of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act.

IN SUPPORT OF THIS APPLICATION, THE APPLICANT RELIES UPON THE FOLLOWING EVIDENCE:

- a. The affidavit of Henry Carl Rosenau, sworn the 25th day of October, 2011
- b. The affidavit of Glen Stewart, sworn the 25th day of October, 2011.
- c. Such other affidavit evidence as may prove necessary.

This application is based upon sections 7, 8, 9, 10a, 10b, and 24 (1) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms; sections 10 to 21 of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act, and Rule 4 of the Criminal Court Rules of the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

It is expected that two hours will be needed for this application.

Dated at Vancouver, British Columbia, this 25th day of October, 2011.

COURT OF APPEAL

REGINA

Respondent

v.

HENRY CARL ROSENAU

Appellant

Date of Judgment Appealed from: November 2, 2011
Justice: Mr. Justice Wilkinson, British Columbia Supreme Court

TAKE NOTICE that the Appellant appeals against the judgment of the Honourable Mr. Justice Wilkinson on grounds involving questions of law alone. The grounds for appeal are:

1. That the learned justice erred in law in his conclusion that he could not adjudicate on the Appellant's application for relief under section 24(1) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms ("the Charter") in connection with an admittedly warrantless search and seizure made in violation of section 8 of the Charter and/or without reference to the search and seizure provisions of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act (MLA Act) and Treaty.
2. That the learned justice erred in law in ruling that he could not give orders in the nature of declaration, mandamus and prohibition to prevent the RCMP from disclosing to the United States evidence seized in contravention of section 8 of the Charter and/or seized without reference to due process as set out in the provisions of sections 10 to 16 of the MLA Act and Treaty.
3. That the learned justice erred in law in holding that he did not have jurisdiction to issue an order preventing officers of the RCMP from testifying against the appellant in a U.S. trial when the essence of their expected testimony is the introduction of Canadian evidence seized in contravention of the Charter and/or without reference to the clear search and seizure and sending provisions set out in sections 10 to 21 of the MLA Act.
4. That taken together, and severally, these errors of law amount to a refusal or failure of the learned justice to exercise his jurisdiction in the Appellant's Charter application, specifically with respect to abuse of process and search and seizure.

The relief sought is:

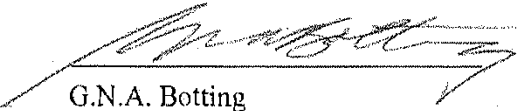

1. An order directing the learned justice to exercise his jurisdiction over the subject matter of search and seizure in conformity with sections 7 and 8 of the Charter, including whether actions of the RCMP near Yale, British Columbia on September 21, 2005 constituted violations of sections 7 and 8 of the Charter, and if so finding, whether the remedies and relief sought in the application, including those of section 24 of the Charter, should be granted as requested.
2. An order in the nature of mandamus compelling the learned justice to exercise his jurisdiction with respect to the violation of due process implicit in the RCMP sending evidence to a foreign country without reference to the search, seizure and sending provisions of the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act.
3. An order directing that the learned justice was wrong in law to refuse Charter relief on the basis that this was a matter before the U.S. courts when the evidence has not yet been sent to the United States in any usable form, and the RCMP officers concerned have not yet testified with respect to their gathering of evidence in Canada.
4. An order of prohibition preventing the RCMP from disclosing or sharing or "sending" evidence from Canada to the United States without first following the procedures explicitly set out in the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act, and until such time as the issues raised in this appeal are judicially settled.

Exhibit 11

BY
vs.
HENRY ROSENAU

APPEARANCE BOND
CASE No: CR06-157 MJP

I understand that I may be released from custody, pending further proceedings in this case, on the conditions marked below:

- Court Appearances. I must appear in court at the United States Courthouse, 700 Stewart Street, Seattle, Washington, Courtroom 12B, on Monday, June 27, 2011 at 9:00 AM and at all other hearings in this case, including turning myself in to begin serving a sentence, should that occasion arise. I UNDERSTAND THAT A WILLFUL FAILURE TO APPEAR IN COURT AT A TIME SET FOR HEARING IS A SEPARATE CRIMINAL OFFENSE, PUNISHABLE BY UP TO 10 YEARS IMPRISONMENT AND A FINE OF $250,000.
- No Law Violations. I must not commit a federal, state, or local crime during the period of release. I understand that if I commit a felony while on release, my sentence can be increased by a maximum of ten years. If I commit a misdemeanor while on release, my sentence can be increased by a maximum of one year. These sentences would be consecutive to all other applicable sentences.
- DNA Testing. I must cooperate in the collection of a DNA sample if the collection is authorized by 42 U.S.C. § 14135a.
- No Controlled Substances. I must not use, consume or possess any controlled substances, including medication, unless prescribed by a physician and approved in advance by the Pretrial Services Officer.
- Address. I must furnish my attorney, and/or Pretrial Services if supervised, with my current address and telephone number (if any) where I will reside upon release and where I will receive any notices of hearing dates. I must report any changes in that address or telephone number to my attorney, and/or Pretrial Services if supervised, within one business day.
- Restrictions on Travel. I must not travel outside the Continental United States or as directed by Pretrial Services
- Victim and Witness Protection. I must not harass, threaten, intimidate, tamper with, improperly influence, or injure the person or property of witnesses, jurors, informants, victims of crime, judicial officers, or other persons related to official proceedings before the Court, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1503, 1512, and 1513.
- Pretrial Supervision. I am subject to Pretrial Services supervision by the Pretrial Services Office of the Court and must abide by such of the general and special conditions of release as that office shall impose. I must report to the Office of Pretrial Services, (206) 370-8950, United States Courthouse, 700 Stewart Street, Seattle, Washington within 24 hours of my release unless released during a weekend or on a holiday in which case I must report at 9:00 a.m. the following court day.

OTHER SPECIAL CONDITIONS:

- Travel is restricted to British Columbia, Canada, and the Western District of Washington for court purposes only, or as directed by Pretrial Services.
 - Surrender all current and expired passports and travel documents to the court no later than May 18, 2011; if defendant does not have a passport, or cannot find the passport, the defendant must submit an affidavit to affect to his Pretrial Services officer. Do not apply for/obtain a new passport or travel document from any country without permission of the court. If the surrendered passport is a foreign passport, it shall be forwarded to Immigration and Customs Enforcement if defendant is convicted of an offense, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.
 - Maintain residence as directed. Do not change residence without prior approval of Pretrial Services or as directed by Pretrial Services.
 - You are prohibited from possessing or having access to firearms and dangerous weapons. All firearms and dangerous weapons must be removed from your residence(s), vehicle(s), and place of employment. This condition operates in conjunction with any restrictions imposed under Title 18, USC 922, and the Washington State Revised Code, Chapter 9.41.
 - Maintain employment, or, if unemployed, actively seek employment as directed by Pretrial Services.
 - You are financially responsible for the costs of any treatment or testing services obtained in Canada.
 - Contact Pretrial Services within 24 hours of your release from custody. Call Pretrial Services weekly as directed. Report to your local community corrections office and comply with all directives of their office. Report to Pretrial Services at the U.S. Customs office in Blaine, Washington, monthly as directed. You shall report to U.S. Pretrial Services any time you enter the Western District of Washington.
 - You shall not have direct contact or indirect contact with any existing and/or future co-defendant(s) in this case.
 - You shall not have direct contact or indirect contact with any existing and/or future witnesses in this case.
- Defendant must post with the Clerk of Court all his pilot licenses. No operation of aircraft of any type.

THE CLERK: All rise. United States District Court for the Western District of Washington is now in session, the Honorable Bryan H. Cheetham presiding.

THE COURT: Good afternoon. Please be seated.

THE CLERK: Your Honor, the matter before you is scheduled for an initial appearance on bond revocation hearing, cause number CR06-157 MJP, assigned to Judge Pechman, United States versus Henry Rosenau. Counsel please make

11

MS. ROE: Good afternoon, your Honor. Susan Roe on behalf of United States. Also present at counsel table is Marc Perez and the pretrial services officer Julie Busic.

THE COURT: And Ms. Roe, good afternoon. Mr.
Platt, good afternoon.

16

MR. PLATT: Good afternoon, your Honor. Craig Platt on behalf of Henry Rosenau, who is seated or standing to my

19

THE COURT: And good afternoon, Mr. Rosenau.
Please be seated.

Mr. Rosenau, we are here because I have received a petition alleging a violation of a condition of release, and,
Mr. Platt, has the defense received a copy?

24

MR. PLATT: Yes, your Honor.

25

THE COURT: And for our record, Ms. Roe, if you'd

October 28, 2011

1 state the allegation.

2 MS. ROE: The allegation is that the defendant has
3 violated the special condition of his bond by having contact
4 indirect with existing or future witnesses in this case by 5 having indirect contact with Kip Whelpley on October 20th of 6 this year.

7 THE COURT: All right. So, Mr. Rosenau, you know
8 that the government has brought this allegation, and of course
9 you have no obligation to make any kind of admission, and we 10 can contest this. I have in fact received a number of 11 materials regarding this allegation, and I trust, Mr. Platt,
12 that you also received a copy. I think the government filed
13 it earlier today. It's the government's -- it's a pleading in 14 support of a request for revocation with attachments, and I
15 also received from you, Mr. Platt, just a little while ago a
16 copy of an email from Craig Platt to Mr. Botting or Boatting
17 (phonetic). All right. And I also -- in terms of the 18 submissions from the government as well as the defense, do I
19 have everything or is there something I'm missing?

20 MS. ROE: You have everything from the government, 21 your Honor.

22 THE COURT: All right.

23 MR. PLATT: Your Honor, the court should have 24 everything at this point. We're going to ask Mr. Botting to 25 address the court at this hearing. He does have with him some

1 books that he brought that he's written. It's just by way of
2 establishing his credentials as an expert in this area in
3 Canadian law.

4 THE COURT: Well, I guess the question is whether
5 we need expert testimony about the factual allegations, so
6 what's really before me is a allegation on a violation of a
7 condition of supervision. I don't think that's really a
8 matter of expert testimony in terms of whether the government
9 can show that there was indirect contact between Mr. Rosenau
10 and one of the witnesses in this case, unless of course Mr.
11 Botting is a fact witness and has some testimony regarding the 12 facts regarding that allegation.

13 MR. PLATT: And, your Honor, our position would be 14 that it's a question of mixed facts and law in this matter.
15 He would be testifying as a fact witness as well because he is 16 personally aware of some of the circumstances surrounding the 17 allegations with respect to the violation. To the extent that 18 there's an argument being made by the government that the 19 lawsuit in question was in any way frivolous or, you know, it
20 was -- it's referred to as vexatious I believe in their moving
21 paper. To that extent I think that's a question of mixed fact
22 and law whether or not that's vexatious, and Mr. Botting is 23 able to address the court on that issue.

24 THE COURT: All right. Well, why don't we at this 25 point -- first of all, let's just start with what the

1 government has, and so Ms. Roe, why don't you start, and then
2 we can address the whole issue about other evidence and as
3 presented by the defense as this plays out.

4 MS. ROE: Your Honor, thank you. I will. But I'd
5 ask that any witness be excused from the courtroom. Mr.
6 Botting shouldn't be present listening to the testimony if
7 he's going to be a fact witness.

8 THE COURT: All right. Do you have any objection?

9 MR. PLATT: We will object. I think it's important
10 if he is offering his opinion about the lawsuit that he be 11 able to hear the testimony so he can opine on that when he's 12 called to.

13 THE COURT: Well, if he brought the lawsuit or 14 assisted, I don't know if he needs to hear what anybody else
15 thinks about it, so I'll grant the motion, and we'll excuse I
16 guess witnesses until they're called. Are there any other
17 witnesses here? From either side?

18 MR. PLATT: No, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Just spectators. All right. Thank you
20 very much, Mr. Botting. So Ms. Roe, go ahead.

21 MS. ROE: Thank you. Your Honor, the government
22 calls pretrial services officer Julie Busic.

23 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Busic, if you'll step
24 forward and we'll have you sworn in.

25 JULIE BUSIC, witness sworn.

October 28, 2011

1 THE COURT: And go ahead, Ms. Roe, any time you're 2 ready.

3 MS. ROE: Thank you.

4 DIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MS. ROE:

6 Q. Ms. Busic, would you just briefly identify yourself
7 for the record and give us briefly what you do and what your 8 role in this incident is.

9 A. Yes. I'm Julie Busic. I'm a supervising U.S.
10 probation officer working in the pretrial unit, and I have 11 been so employed for over 14 years and currently supervising
12 Mr. Rosenau since May of 2011.

13 Q. Okay. Mr. Rosenau is living in Canada; is that 14 correct?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. And so you deal with the Canadians. One of your
17 duties is to deal with the Canadians who are on pretrial
18 release.

19 A. That's correct.

20 Q. When did you first take Mr. Rosenau on your case
21 load?

22 A. May 6, 2011.

23 Q. And what's your procedure for reviewing the 24 conditions of his release with him and what did you do with 25 him?

1 A. May 6 I telephonically reviewed the conditions of
2 supervision with Mr. Rosenau. Given the distance between us,
3 he was provided an email copy of the documents and we reviewed
4 them telephonically.

5 Q. Can you look at what's been marked exhibit 1? Do
6 you recognize that as the written conditions of his release?

7 (Exhibit 1 marked.)

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And is that his signature at the bottom?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. And is one of the conditions that he not have 12 contact with witnesses direct or indirect?

13 A. That is a special condition of his bond, yes.

14 Q. Did he have one -- generally speaking has Mr.
15 Rosenau been pretty good on supervision?

16 A. Mr. Rosenau has reported as directed. There was a
17 previous violation in this matter that was before the court in 18 July. As a result his bond was modified.

19 Q. And it was modified so that he changed residences;
20 is that it?

21 A. At the time the bond was actually modified to 22 include a drug and alcohol testing condition. There were 23 discussions between Mr. Rosenau and myself about a move, and 24 essentially the requirement for supervision was he lived in a
25 home that would be free of any controlled substances or he

October 28, 2011

1 would relocate.

2 Q. And what was your understanding with Mr. Rosenau?

3 A. We had several discussions about the topic, and 4 there was some discussion or some word from Mr. Rosenau that
5 he would move to another location and was preparing to do
6 that, and what the agreement between us was that he had 7 permission to move. He'd provided me with the address and the 8 particulars; however, upon when he would be ready to 9 officially do that he would call me, and if he didn't reach me
10 personally, it was acceptable to leave a voice mail. However,
11 as of today he has not moved. He continues to reside in his 12 home that he released to.

13 Q. And when did you learn that he hadn't moved?

14 A. I did confirm with him on Monday of this week that 15 he was still residing in his home.

16 Q. Did you discuss the condition that he have no
17 contact direct or indirect with witnesses also with his 18 attorney, Mr. Platt?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. When was that discussion?

21 A. Well, it was a condition of his release, and the 22 discussions started about that upon release. At that time I
23 had made requests for a full list of the parties that he
24 should not have contact with, and that on May 25th, 2011, I
25 was contacted by counsel about the condition. I was informed

October 28, 2011

1 that there were some proceedings in Canada and that there were
2 some third parties that may need to be served regarding
3 extradition, and would that be a violation of the conditions
4 of supervision.

5 Q. What was your advice to Mr. Platt, defense counsel?

6 A. What I said at the time is that I had not received
7 any lists of prohibited parties, and, therefore, as long as it
8 was a legal matter served by legal counsel, that was 9 acceptable for me and that I would document it in my records.

10 Q. And did you so document?

11 A. Yes, I did.

12 Q. Both Mr. Platt's inquiry and your response.

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Okay. And did you understand that this had to do
15 with extradition, not with the underlying criminal matter?

16 A. I understood it to be regarding extradition.

17 Q. What would your response have been if you knew that 18 it was regarding the underlying criminal matter or the 19 availability of a witness?

20 MR. PLATT: Objection, assumes facts not in 21 evidence.

22 THE COURT: Go ahead and answer the question.

23 A. I would not view myself as having the authority to 24 authorize that and would have sought direction from the court
25 directly or suggested that the parties do so.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. Sometime later, a few weeks later, did you give Mr.
2 Rosenau a list of the witnesses with whom he was prohibited
3 from contacting?

4 A. Yes. I was in receipt of the names. I created a
5 document that would spell them out and to advise of what he
6 should do in the event there was contact, and on June 14th I
7 emailed the document to the defendant as well as counsel.

8 Q. And looking at what's been marked for purposes of 9 this hearing exhibit number 2, is that a list of your memo to 10 Mr. Rosenau with a list of witnesses?

11 A. Yes.

12 MS. ROE: Government offers 1 and 2.

13 THE COURT: Any objections, Mr. Platt.

14 MR. PLATT: No objection.

15 THE COURT: All right. Number 1 and 2 are admitted.

16 (Exhibits 1-2 admitted.)

17 Q. Did you also talk to Mr. Rosenau about the list?

18 A. Yes. We talked on June 16 of 2011 about the 19 document. Mr. Rosenau was concerned at that point because he 20 indicated he didn't know any of the parties, and as I noted,
21 he indicated a concern that he might approach somebody and ask
22 them for directions and not knowing that they were someone he 23 should not be having contact with.

24 Q. And what did you advise him to do?

25 A. My response was if he didn't know any of the

October 28, 2011

1 parties, that the condition was going to be easy to comply
2 with, and as it notes on my form, that if there was some kind
3 of incidental or accidental contact, he would report it to me
4 immediately.

5 Q. Is that form signed by Mr. Rosenau?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And does it also have sort of an odd date, like a
8 date a week or two later?

9 A. Yes. At the time that I had sent this to the 10 defendant, there were a number of things going on. He was 11 having some computer difficulties in being able to print the 12 document. He could view it, and then it was amidst the 13 Canadian mail strike, and so he was being very receptive in 14 terms of telling me that there was going to be a delay in 15 getting it to me because of the mail strike.

16 Q. Okay. So that was received by your office in July.

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. Since that time has Mr. Rosenau mentioned that he or 19 his friends have contacted witnesses in this matter?

20 A. No.

21 Q. Inadvertently or other?

22 A. No.

23 Q. Did you receive copies -- oh, let me ask. Where 24 does he live?

25 A. Quesnel.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. Have you been there?

2 A. No.

3 Q. How far is it, do you know?

4 A. It's my understanding it's about 8 hours north of 5 the border.

6 Q. Did you receive copies this week of emails forwarded
7 by Bruce Erickson purportedly from his client Kip Whelpley?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Is Mr. Whelpley on the list of witnesses with whom 10 Mr. Rosenau was not supposed to have contact?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. And are there some emails between Patrick with a
13 Gaelic last name and Kip Whelpley regarding a civil lawsuit
14 and a default order?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Do most of those emails you've seen predate Mr.
17 Rosenau being on supervised release?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Is there one dated last week?

20 A. Yes, October 20th.

21 Q. And is the October 20th email one of the attached
22 for the basis of this allegation?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Have you asked Mr. Rosenau about it?

25 A. No.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. Why do you view it as a violation of the condition?

2 A. When I read the email, there had been no requests
3 for specific permission regarding that, and I noted the court
4 order which spells out the defendant's name and the witness's
5 name.

6 Q. And does it seem to be about an underlying 7 extradition matter?

8 A. No.

9 MS. ROE: No further questions.

10 THE COURT: Mr. Platt.

11 MR. PLATT: Thank you, your Honor.

13 BY MR. PLATT:

14 Q. Good afternoon, Ms. Busic.

15 A. Hello.

16 Q. I just have a few questions for you. I just want to 17 confirm first of all the phone call that you and I had on the 18 25th. Now, I called you; is that your recollection, on that 19 date?

20 A. If I can just quickly refer to my notes, I will
21 confirm what I jotted down. Yes.

22 Q. And I told you that I was calling in part to ask you
23 about how to handle something that had come to my attention,
24 namely a lawsuit involving what we thought might be a
25 potential witness; is that correct?

1 A. There were proceedings regarding an extradition,
2 that you had learned from a Canadian attorney that some third
3 parties may be served paperwork as they were likely witnesses
4 in this matter.

5 Q. Okay. So I did tell you that I was concerned they 6 might be witnesses, correct?

7 A. Right.

8 Q. And in fact, at that point we had a discussion about
9 having a problem because there was no witness list yet
10 provided by the government; is that correct?

11 A. That's correct.

12 Q. And in fact, that was a little bit of an impediment
13 for us to be able to go forward and figure out who exactly Mr.
14 Rosenau was to have no contact with at that time.

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. But I think for the purpose of that discussion is it
17 fair to say I said let's just assume that it is a witness, and 18 that's why I need to talk to you about it, words to that 19 effect?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. And then we agreed that if there was a valid lawsuit
22 existing in British Columbia and if paperwork from that
23 lawsuit was served on a witness, so long as it was done
24 through counsel and done legally, that that would be not 25 considered a violation of no contact, correct?

1 A. Correct.

2 Q. And I specifically expressed to you my concerns
3 about that issue because I did not want that to be later
4 misunderstood and interpreted as a violation of the no contact
5 condition.

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. Let's talk a little bit about Mr. Rosenau's
8 adjustment on release, and you've talked about that a bit, but 9 leaving aside the issue that we're here addressing and the 10 issue that we addressed at the last hearing, is it fair to say
11 that his adjustment has gone fairly smoothly?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. That when you have asked him for paperwork, he has 14 provided it.

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. That when you have asked him to check in with you,
17 he has.

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. That he has met with you at least one or -- how many 20 times has he met with you at the border?

21 A. Could be three. Definitely two.

22 Q. All right.

23 Q. And is he always there?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. And on time?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And cooperative?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. And answers your questions?

5 A. He does.

6 Q. And gives you the materials you need?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. Thank you. Now, let me just ask you the general
9 question then. Other than the subject matter of this hearing
10 and the last hearing, have you had any problems whatsoever
11 supervising Mr. Rosenau on supervision?

12 A. No.

13 Q. Now, when you -- you said you talked to Mr. Rosenau
14 about whether or not he knew witnesses; is that correct?

15 A. Uh-huh.

16 Q. And he indicated to you that he was worried about 17 not recognizing people; is that correct?

18 A. That's correct.

19 Q. He didn't say I won't recognize their names, he said
20 I won't recognize how they look or words to that effect; is 21 that true?

22 A. I need to refer to my notes. He's worried because 23 he didn't know any of the names of the list of prohibited
24 parties.

25 Q. Did he say that he would not recognize someone if he

1 met them on the street?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. And he was concerned about that because he would not
4 recognize the way they looked.

5 A. Correct.

6 Q. And that was a concern he expressed to you.

7 A. Yes, he did.

8 Q. All right. And your understanding of the subject
9 matter of today's hearing is that there was contact from some 10 third party, is that correct, somebody other than Henry
11 Rosenau had contact with a witness in the case; is that 12 correct?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. And you're basing your conclusion that there was a
15 violation of the no contact condition on the fact that that 16 third person who made contact purported to have authorization
17 from Mr. Rosenau, that that information came from that third
18 person, correct?

19 A. Correct.

20 Q. And you've heard nothing from Mr. Rosenau to the 21 contrary. He hasn't said, oh, yeah, I told him to have 22 contact or he knew about contact; is that correct?

23 A. That's correct.

24 Q. In fact, quite the opposite; is that true?

25 A. We haven't spoke about the issue.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. Right. So other than reading the document
2 prepared -- well, strike that.

3 One final question. Is it fair to say -- and I
4 don't know if you can answer this. If not, just say so. But 5 is it fair to say that in your experience Mr. Rosenau is not
6 exactly an expert user of computers? Do you have any opinion
7 on that?

8 A. I can't make an assessment of his use of a computer,
9 nor can he properly make one of mine. I will acknowledge he's 10 had some difficulties with email.

11 Q. All right. And he has expressed that he has trouble
12 with the computer and using emails and that type of thing, has 13 he ever said that?

14 A. Yes, he has said that.

15 MR. PLATT: Thank you very much.

16 THE COURT: All right. Any follow-up questions,

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. Okay. So I told you there was already a lawsuit in 16 Canada, correct?

17 A. Excuse me. I'm going to go back to my notes, which 18 is how I recorded it, that you were concerned that there are 19 proceedings regarding the extradition that you'd learned from 20 a Canadian attorney and that some third parties needed to be 21 served and would likely be witnesses in this matter. That's 22 what I understood.

15 A. I am.

16 Q. And do you represent a witness in the U.S. versus

18 A. That's correct.

19 Q. And Mr. Whelpley lives in Canada?

20 A. That's correct.

21 Q. But you represented him in his underlying matter
22 here and continue to represent him; is that correct?

1 Q. And how do you know that?

2 A. I've heard many statements made by Mr. Whelpley in
3 various contexts to that effect.

4 Q. And from a review of your discovery in the
5 underlying case of Mr. Whelpley's?

6 A. That's true also.

7 Q. Did you receive a series of emails from your client
8 Kip Whelpley on October 20th of this year?

9 A. I'm thinking. In terms of the date I --

10 Q. May I ask that the witness be handed what's been 11 marked exhibit 3, which is sort of confusingly 4 packets,
12 exhibits 1 through 4 that were attached to the pleading today.

13 THE CLERK: (Inaudible).

14 MS. ROE: Well, let's do this. Let's call it 3.

15 (Exhibit 3 marked.)

16 A. All right. I'm looking at it.

17 Q. Right. There should be 4 packets, and although your 18 client's email address and home address has been redacted,
19 otherwise are those the same? Do you recognize them?

20 A. It's the matters contained within what's marked as 21 exhibit 1 within plaintiff's exhibit number 3, and those do
22 appear to be the same emails that I received, yes.

23 Q. Okay. Would you also look at the other exhibits.
24 Is exhibit 2 and 3 and 4 other emails that you received from 25 your client as well as some attachments, for instance, some

~~October 28, 2011~~

1 letters that were attached to those emails?

2 A. I believe they are, but, you know, I can't be a
3 hundred percent sure, I'm sorry, because the ones that I
4 reviewed were the ones that were addressed to me. The 5 attachments I didn't spend a lot of time with.

6 Q. And those have page breaks in them for easier
7 reading. So the ones that you had were just long and 8 sequential, some of those emails?

9 A. That's correct.

10 Q. Okay. Did you forward the emails and the 11 attachments that you'd received from your client to my office?

12 A. I did.

13 Q. And are -- those emails and letters indicate that 14 they came to my office from your office, Bruce D. Erickson, by 15 the top or by the email note?

16 A. Well, I -- there's no question that I sent along the 17 email, packet of emails that I received from my client Kip
18 Whelpley and the attachments to your office. They had a
19 slightly different format, and I'm not sure if I'm recalling
20 precisely what your -- I think your question was is there
21 something in here that identifies them as coming from my 22 office to your office, and I'm not sure that I can find that 23 but --

24 Q. Let me ask you this. Do you recognize those as 25 appearing to be the emails you forwarded to my office?

October 28, 2011

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. Why did you forward them to us?

3 A. Mr. Whelpley in his plea agreement in his case had a
4 paragraph calling for cooperation. The government was asking
5 him to fulfill his cooperation obligations. He had made a
6 decision to do that and to make himself available for 7 testimony at the upcoming trial. I had been in touch with him
8 just regarding logistics of getting ready to fulfill that 9 obligation, and he forwarded these emails to me. I read them.
10 They were new to me, and I conferred with my client and 11 obtained his permission to forward them to you and did so.

12 Q. And did they in fact appear to affect the ability to 13 fulfill his cooperation agreement, that is, to come down and 14 testify at the trial in U.S. versus Rosenau?

15 A. Well, you know --

16 MR. PLATT: That calls for an expert opinion.

17 A. I'm sorry.

18 THE COURT: Go ahead and answer.

19 A. You know, I don't really have any information beyond
20 the documents themselves. I'm aware that one of the documents
21 contains what purports to be an order from somebody in Canada
22 who is either a judicial person or a clerical or staff person
23 working with some court in Canada, and it appears that the 24 order prohibits him from entering -- him meaning Kip
25 Whelpley from entering the United States and therefore it did

October 28, 2011

1 appear that it might be an obstacle towards his fulfilling his
2 obligations pursuant to the cooperation clause in his plea
3 agreement, and I think that that's part of the reason why I
4 brought it to your attention.

5 Q. Okay. Does Mr. Whelpley, if you know, know a man
6 named Paddy (phonetic) Roberts, the man who sent him these 7 emails?

8 A. I'm sorry, I didn't hear that.

9 Q. Do you know if your client knows the man who sent 10 him these emails?

11 A. I don't think he does. I believe that there may 12 have been one face-to-face meeting about the time that this 13 sequence of emails started, but other than that he has no
14 connection with him.

15 Q. And, Mr. Erickson, does your client live in the 16 interior of British Columbia?

17 A. That's right, near --

18 Q. Kelowna?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. Near Kelowna?

21 A. Yes.

22 MS. ROE: No further questions. Offer what's been 23 marked exhibit 3.

24 THE COURT: And, Mr. Platt, any objections to the 25 exhibit 3?

9 BY MR. PLATT:

10 Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Erickson. How are you.

11 A. I'm good. Thank you.

12 Q. At some point during the last few months have you
13 had any contacts with the U.S. Attorney's office about making
14 arrangements to have Mr. Whelpley, your client, deposed in 15 Canada?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And as part of those discussions did you talk with 18 anyone at the U.S. Attorney's office about reasons that a
19 deposition should take place in Canada?

20 A. I think so, yes. I think the answer to that 21 question is yes.

22 Q. And what were those reasons?

23 A. Convenience to my client, some reluctance of my 24 client to come into the United States. My client -- as I
25 think the court knows, my client was previously here as a

October 28, 2011

1 defendant, was convicted upon a plea of guilty and did time
2 and was trying to rebuild his life in Canada and was trying to
3 stay focused on rebuilding his life in Canada and was
4 reluctant to come down to the United States.

5 Q. So it would largely be for the convenience of your
6 client. Is that a fair statement?

7 A. Yes, I think that -- I mean largely, I'm not sure
8 precisely what that word means, but I would agree with that,
9 yes.

10 Q. And is it fair to assume then that Mr. Whelpley did
11 not tell you about any lawsuit that was pending against him, 12 any order that was out there preventing him from coming to the 13 United States?

14 A. I don't recall that being mentioned to me by my 15 client at the time we were discussing the possibility of his 16 testimony being received by deposition.

17 Q. At any point have you had a conversation with anyone
18 in the United States Attorney's office regarding the fact that 19 there is that lawsuit up in British Columbia? At any time.

20 A. Yes. I think I mentioned, since, and I guess it was 21 the 20th -- I'm not sure which day on the calendar it was, but 22 not too long ago on the day that I forwarded -- same day I
23 forwarded this material to the U.S. Attorney we had a
24 conversation on the topic, yes.

25 Q. Okay. And did you know about the lawsuit before

October 28, 2011

1 that?

2 A. I don't think I did. I mean it certainly didn't
3 penetrate my consciousness if there was any mention of it at 4 all to me prior to that. I don't think there was.

5 Q. Now, you and I had a conversation, I don't know, a
6 couple weeks ago regarding whether or not your client would be 7 available for an interview. Do you recall that?

8 A. Yeah. Well, I think you -- it was fairly recently.

9 Q. Yeah.

10 A. Yes, I do.

11 Q. But that was before the 20th, correct?

12 A. I think that there was a series of phone calls is my 13 recollection, and -- here's my recollection, you know. My 14 recollection is that it was mentioned I think -- I think we 15 encountered each other on an unrelated matter here in the 16 court house. You called me a day or two later and indicated
17 you were representing Mr. Rosenau, and that it may have been 18 in that first message that you indicated that you might want
19 to meet with my client for an interview. It was not -- the 20 inquiry was not answered, it wasn't really resolved is my 21 recollection.

22 And then when we went up -- recently I saw my client
23 in Canada, and at that time it still had not yet been 24 resolved, and it was only, you know, in the last couple of 25 days that I put the question to my client, and he said, no, he

1 does not want -- he would prefer not to be interviewed.

2 That's my recollection.

3 Q. Well, do you recall whether or not you and I have 4 discussed this since the 20th?

5 A. Yes, I think we have.

6 Q. All right.

7 A. But I'm hoping -- I'm not getting my dates right, I
8 don't have a calendar here, I didn't bring my file, but I
9 believe that -- trying to -- let's see. Well, it was just,
10 you know, last -- yes, I think it was this week. Huh.

11 Q. We talked yesterday, right?

12 A. What's that?

13 Q. We talked yesterday?

14 A. Yeah. Was that it?

15 Q. We talked about Saipan?

16 A. That's right.

17 Q. Remember that?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Did we talk before then?

20 A. Yes. I'm sorry. I'm doing my best to be precise on 21 this, and I -- I recall it just being in the last couple of 22 days here that I informed you that I'd conferred with my 23 client and he'd indicated that he preferred not to have an 24 interview with Mr. Rosenau's attorney.

25 Q. And you were following up on a prior phone call.

1 A. That's correct.

2 Q. And during that prior phone call you brought up the
3 topic of there was something going on up in Canada with some 4 lawsuit. Do you remember that?

5 A. Yes. No one -- here's my recollection on that.
6 After -- after I sent the emails to the U.S. Attorney's
7 office, and I'm not sure whether telephones the same day -- I
8 think it was the next day -- I felt as a courtesy to you, Mr.
9 Rosenau's attorney, that I would inform you that I had -- that 10 this issue had come to my attention and I had brought it to 11 the attention of the U.S. Attorney's office.

12 Q. All right. And during our first phone call we 13 talked about that issue as well, correct, about the fact there
14 was a lawsuit.

15 A. Was that -- is this -- are you referring to a
16 separate phone call than this one I was just talking about in 17 my last answer?

18 Q. The one before the one yesterday.

19 A. Yeah. Well, no, you know, I'm not even clear
20 whether I just left -- yeah, we did talk. There were a couple
21 of times when I left voice mail messages, but there was this 22 one occasion we did talk, and we did talk, yes. I mean that 23 was the purpose of my call was to notify you of that fact.
24 The fact being that I had become aware of this and I had sent
25 this information off to the U.S. Attorney's office, and it

October 28, 2011

1 might be something you would have to be dealing with.

2 Q. And then one last question. On this issue of the
3 lawsuit up there, you were asked whether or not that prevented
4 your client from leaving Canada to testify in this lawsuit,
5 whether or not there was a problem? Ms. Roe just asked you
6 about that?

7 A. Okay. You're referencing my prior testimony here
8 this afternoon now?

9 Q. Right.

10 A. Uh-huh.

11 Q. And I objected and said, you know, that's expert
12 something, you remember that answer?

13 A. Just now?

14 Q. Yeah.

15 THE COURT: Why don't we ask another question, not 16 whether you remember the question and the actual answer. Why
17 don't you ask.

18 A. I'm sorry.

19 Q. Let me ask you this. Is it fair to say that reading
20 the pleadings from British Columbia, it's hard for you to have
21 a legal opinion about the full force and effect that any order
22 up there would have on someone's ability to travel? Is that a
23 fair statement?

24 A. Yes.

25 MR. PLATT: Thank you. Nothing further.

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 MS. ROE: Nothing further, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right. Thank you very much, Mr.

4 Erickson. Can Mr. Erickson be excused?

5 MS. ROE: Yes. The government would so ask.

6 (Witness excused.)

7 THE COURT: And, Ms. Roe, any other witnesses?

8 MS. ROE: No.

9 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Platt, witnesses?

10 MR. PLATT: Mr. Botting, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: All right. Before Mr. Botting gets on 12 the stand, can you just give me a brief nutshell of exactly
13 what he's supposed to testify about?

14 MR. PLATT: Yes, your Honor. He can testify to 15 several things. The allegation of violation here is that a
16 third party had contact with Kip Whelpley. That third party
17 goes by different names, but for the purposes of this hearing
18 we'll call him Paddy Roberts. I believe he has used a 19 different name in the email. I believe that's his Gaelic
20 name.

21 Mr. Botting was involved in dealings with Mr.
22 Roberts with respect to the lawsuit that is the subject matter
23 of these emails. He can testify that on several occasions he 24 advised Mr. Roberts not to have contact with Mr. Whelpley,
25 that he can also testify he was not involved directly in that

October 28, 2011

1 lawsuit but was aware of it.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Botting was not involved in it,
3 correct?

4 MR. PLATT: Correct. He was not counsel, and I
5 don't know if you got -- I didn't actually get to see the
6 exhibits that were just offered from the government. I did
7 get them in an email.

8 THE COURT: Right.

9 MR. PLATT: But I don't know if the exhibits in 10 there with a letter from Mr. Botting basically telling the 11 attorney up in Canada I'm not involved in this lawsuit, I'm 12 not going to represent Mr. Rosenau on that, I'm just on the 13 extradition. I don't know if you got a copy of that one, but 14 he can testify to that. He can also testify to a meeting that 15 occurred where Mr. Rosenau was present, Mr. Roberts was 16 present, I was present, and the discussion of having no
17 contact with Mr. Whelpley came up, and he can testify about 18 what happened during that discussion, and I think that's 19 highly relevant to this litigation.

20 THE COURT: All right. So why don't you call him
21 for these facts regarding it sounds like his knowledge of the 22 contact between Paddy Roberts or Paddy Roibeaird or whatever
23 his name is, and let's start at that point. So why don't you
24 go ahead and call your witness.

25 MR. PLATT: Thank you, your Honor.

1 GARY NORMAN ARTHUR BOTTING, witness sworn.

2 THE COURT: Please have a seat, Mr. Botting, and
3 Mr. Platt, go ahead.

5 BY MR. PLATT:

6 Q. Mr. Botting, good afternoon.

7 A. Good afternoon.

8 Q. Can you please state your full name for the record?

9 A. Gary Norman Arthur Botting.

10 Q. Mr. Botting, can you tell us what your profession
11 is.

12 A. I'm a lawyer.

13 Q. And how long have you been a lawyer?

14 A. 20 years.

15 Q. And where do you practice?

16 A. In Vancouver, B.C., and area.

17 Q. And what is your official designation up there,
18 barrister, solicitor?

19 A. Both.

20 Q. And have you had any involvement in your capacity as 21 an attorney representing Mr. Rosenau?

22 A. Yes. I represented him in an application and appeal
23 to the Supreme Court of Canada in 2010, 2011.

24 Q. And can you tell us just what that case was about?

25 A. Basically it was an extradition case to bring him to

1 the United States, or to send him to the United States from
2 Canada. That had gone through a hearing sometime earlier with 3 another lawyer, and it had gone through appeal, and I was
4 appealing the appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

5 Q. All right. What was the outcome of that?

6 A. The Supreme Court of Canada receives about 3,000
7 applications a year, declined to hear the appeal.

8 Q. Are you familiar with an individual by the name of 9 Paddy Roberts?

10 A. Yes, I am.

11 Q. Who is that?

12 A. Paddy Roberts is basically a person who has a lot to 13 do with trying to defend people, especially when they have 14 been charged with offenses such as marijuana possession and 15 that kind of thing. He's a leader of a political party in 16 Canada and basically an advocate for people who are not 17 represented, and he often refers clients to other lawyers, but 18 he's also in this particular case he has helped me as a
19 paralegal.

20 Q. In what capacity?

21 A. Well, basically to act as a go-between in certainly 22 anything that happens up island, or sorry, in the interior of 23 British Columbia as opposed to in the Vancouver area where I'm 24 located. In particular he acted as a paralegal or potentially 25 acted as a paralegal with respect to -- well, we talked about

October 28, 2011

1 this at least, in connection with his serving a document that
2 he had initiated on his own in a civil claim --

3 MS. ROE: Move to strike. It's not responsive to 4 the question.

5 THE COURT: Go ahead and just -- go ahead and
6 explain what he did.

7 A. Yeah, in connection with a civil suit that he had
8 brought against John (phonetic) and Kip Whelpley, which was a
9 suit of defamation, and basically the suit sought remedies of 10 various kinds including damages, and also it basically sought
11 a court order so that Mr. Whelpley could not come to the 12 United States to increase the damage that he'd allegedly done.

13 Q. And with respect to that lawsuit, not the 14 extradition but the other lawsuit, all right? With respect to 15 that lawsuit were you representing Mr. Rosenau in your 16 capacity as his attorney in that lawsuit?

17 A. No, I was not. It was Mr. Roberts' own bailiwick.

18 Q. And did you have any conversations with or 19 communications with an attorney representing Mr. Whelpley
20 regarding that lawsuit?

21 A. Yes. He thought that I had initiated it, and I
22 denied that I had, and that ended the communication. He knew
23 that Mr. Roberts I believe had initiated that lawsuit.

24 Q. And did you indicate to this attorney -- was his 25 name Mr. Moffat?

October 28, 2011

1 A. Yes, that's right.

2 Q. Did you indicate to Mr. Moffat, Mr. Whelpley's
3 attorney, that you were not in any way involved in that
4 lawsuit and that Mr. Roberts was acting on his own in that 5 issue?

6 A. Yes, that's right. Because at that time I was 7 representing Mr. Rosenau in the extradition appeal to the 8 Supreme Court.

9 Q. But in your capacity as his attorney on the 10 extradition, you and I did coordinate to partly to educate me
11 about what had occurred up in British Columbia; is that a fair
12 statement?

13 A. That's correct. And you came to my office, and in 14 fact Mr. Roberts was there as well, had driven down there, and 15 you made it very clear to him that you didn't want him
16 involved directly in serving Mr. Whelpley with the order,
17 because there was a -- I should explain. There was a default
18 order.

19 MS. ROE: Objection, your Honor. (Inaudible).

20 MR. PLATT: Well, I can ask another question.

21 THE COURT: Go ahead.

22 Q. I want to look back a little bit before that. Back
23 in May 2011 when I first became involved --

24 A. Right.

25 Q. -- do you recall us having communication about you

October 28, 2011

1 informing me about this other lawsuit and there was a question
2 about the no contact conditions that were imposed on Mr.
3 Rosenau, do you recall that?

4 A. Yes, I do.

5 Q. And do you recall that I informed you I would check
6 with Julie Busic and find out whether or not that would be a
7 problem?

8 A. Yes, I remember that. It was on the 24th of May, I
9 believe. You had indicated or I had asked you whether it was 10 all right for us to continue, you know, in some capacity to 11 serve that order.

12 Q. And on the 25th of May do you recall I sent an email
13 telling you that I'd just got off the phone with Ms. Busic --

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. -- and we determined it would at that point not be 16 necessarily an issue?

17 A. Yes, that's correct.

18 Q. But at that point were you acting in your legal 19 capacity for Mr. Rosenau or were you simply acting as his 20 extradition attorney making sure there were no complications
21 with the case?

22 A. That's right. I didn't want Mr. Rosenau to be 23 breached in any way.

24 Q. And did you have any contact with Mr. Roberts about 25 informing him not to have contact with this other individual?

1 A. Yes. I told him not to have direct contact with the
2 other individual.

3 Q. How did you tell him that the process service should 4 be done?

5 A. By process server or by sheriff.

6 Q. And as far as you know, did Mr. Roberts follow those 7 instructions?

8 A. Well, I thought he was going to, but as it turned 9 out, Mr. Roberts contacted me last week and said that he felt
10 that this is the time for us --

11 MS. ROE: Objection (inaudible) Mr. Roberts, what he 12 said.

13 THE COURT: Why don't you ask another question
14 because I think this is an answer to some other question.

15 MR. PLATT: Right.

16 Q. What did you learn of whether or not Mr. Roberts was 17 following instructions about serving paperwork?

18 A. Well, basically he wasn't following instructions.
19 Mr. Roberts is a loose cannon. He very often goes off on his 20 own, and since he initiated this claim in the first place, I
21 think he wanted to make sure that it didn't fall on deaf ears
22 and that it was served properly on Mr. Whelpley. To that end
23 he called me, and I said make sure this goes through legal 24 channels and that it's done through process server. He said
25 that he had contacted a sheriff and that he would do it that

October 28, 2011

1 way. He did not consult me. I understand that he sent an
2 email and he did not consult me about that ahead of time at 3 all.

4 Q. And you didn't want there to be a problem with any
5 allegation that Mr. Rosenau was involved with contact; is that
6 correct?

7 A. Precisely.

8 Q. So had you and I discussed our concerns about Mr.
9 Roberts and his ability to follow instructions?

10 A. I think we talked about it -- well, as I say, he's 11 rather a loose cannon. He does what he does, he's Irish.
12 Sorry. But that's basically -- that's basically the way he 13 operates is as an individual, and it's difficult to know when 14 he's going to follow instructions because he really
15 (inaudible).

16 Q. Have you spoken to him specifically about whether or 17 not he obtained approval from Mr. Rosenau or had anything to 18 do with Mr. Rosenau with respect to this email that was sent 19 in the last few weeks?

20 MS. ROE: Objection as to the double hearsay, your 21 Honor.

22 MR. PLATT: It's the 1101, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Go ahead and answer if you know the 24 answer.

25 A. Yeah, I do know the answer. In talking to them

October 28, 2011

1 individually, Mr. Rosenau was quite upset that Mr. Roberts had
2 taken that step because he felt that, you know, it might put
3 him in jeopardy. And Mr. Roberts told me that he had 4 specifically done -- acted alone and had decided to do this
5 partly because we as lawyers were not acting precipitously
6 enough to serve Mr. Whelpley.

7 Q. Now, there was a meeting up in Canada in mid August,
8 do you recall that, with myself and you?

9 A. Yes. Yes, I do.

10 Q. And Mr. Roberts at one point was at the meeting; is 11 that correct?

12 A. That's correct.

13 Q. And Mr. Rosenau was there at the same time?

14 A. That's right.

15 Q. And do you recall me cautioning everyone that there
16 should be no contact with Mr. Whelpley?

17 A. Yes, in particular that Mr. Roberts should not 18 contact him alone. And I gave the same instruction to him.

19 Q. And how would you characterize the way that I
20 relayed that instruction to Mr. Roberts?

21 A. No uncertain terms.

22 Q. And was Mr. Rosenau there when I said that?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. And was there any resistance by Mr. Roberts to what
25 I was telling him or anything that you heard? Did you hear

October 28, 2011

1 Mr. Rosenau say anything about that?

2 A. That's kind of a double question. Mr. Roberts
3 wasn't upset. He acknowledged that we would be responsible,
4 that I would somehow take the step, and I think that was the
5 context in which I asked your earlier question. Should I
6 decide to serve this on Mr. Whelpley, would that be okay and
7 it would not jeopardize Mr. Rosenau's status, and you said
8 that's fine, you'd clear with Ms. Busic, and you eventually 9 gave me an email to that effect. When it comes to Mr.
10 Rosenau, I think he was just standing there at the time that 11 we had this dialogue with Mr. Roberts. It's a 3-way dialogue
12 rather than 4.

13 Q. Did you hear Mr. Rosenau say anything to Mr. Roberts
14 about whether or not he should serve that paperwork himself?

15 MS. ROE: Again, your Honor, I object. The 16 defendant is here and can testify. It's hearsay. I know
17 it's --

18 THE COURT: Go ahead if you (inaudible).

19 A. As I recall, Mr. Rosenau said, yeah, don't do
20 anything to breach me, for goodness sake, words to that 21 effect.

22 Q. All right. Is it a crime in British Columbia to 23 serve a person named in a lawsuit with valid pleadings
24 pursuant to that lawsuit?

25 A. Of course not. It's normal process.

October 28, 2011

1 THE COURT: That was a rhetorical question.

2 Q. Although you're not involved in that separate
3 lawsuit with the order relating to travel, are you aware of 4 whether or not that's a real lawsuit?

5 A. Yes, a real lawsuit. It's real. A real looker
6 springs out of it.

7 Q. And is that a real order? I mean that's not a
8 forgery or anything?

9 A. No, it's a valid order, certainly looks it to me in 10 every respect.

11 MR. PLATT: Nothing further. Thank you, Mr.
12 Botting.

13 THE COURT: Ms. Roe, any questions?

14 MS. ROE: Yes, thank you, your Honor.

16 BY MS. ROE:

17 Q. Mr. Botting, I talked to you on the phone yesterday;
18 is that right?

19 A. That's correct.

20 Q. Okay. And you were I think driving because you
21 were -- I called your cell phone, and you pulled over and 22 chatted with me for a few minutes?

23 A. That's correct. I did pull over.

24 Q. Thank you very much for doing that. At that time
25 you said that Paddy Roberts was your paralegal, right?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And that what he did was you said acting somewhat
3 beyond what I asked him to do.

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. And that is you asked him to have it served by the 6 sheriff; is that right?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. Okay. And then you indicated just now that you have 9 reviewed the order in the civil defamation case.

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. And it's a real order in your mind.

12 A. In my mind, yes.

13 Q. And you've reviewed the filings also?

14 A. I believe a long time ago, but not recently. I 15 should --

16 Q. Let me ask you --

17 A. Well, no, I have to clarify something because it's 18 not quite right. Mr. Roberts was not acting as my agent or as 19 my paralegal in terms of deciding to serve this. He phoned me
20 up, asking me how he should serve it. In other words, he 21 initiated that, and I said either by process server or 22 sheriff.

23 Q. And in fact, you told me that yesterday and said the 24 process server would cost $300, sheriff $100.

25 A. Yes.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. So you discussed the service of this with him.

2 A. That's right.

3 Q. And he has been a paralegal in your office or 4 continues to be?

5 A. Not in my office. In the interior B.C.

6 Q. Okay. So paralegal for you in your law practice.

7 A. Right.

8 Q. So you received the paper and the order in the civil
9 defamation suit from Mr. Roberts.

10 A. Yes, that's right.

11 Q. Is Mr. Roberts here today?

12 A. No.

13 Q. Is he in the country?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Did he think of coming with you or did you ask him
16 to come with you?

17 A. I asked him to stand by so that you could 18 interrogate him or ask him questions or ask him questions on 19 his affidavit which he had signed earlier on that I had seen.

20 Q. And do you know why he didn't come to the United 21 States? Could it be because he has a warrant outstanding for 22 drug importation?

23 A. I have no idea whatsoever about anything to do with 24 that.

25 Q. You know Mr. Roberts faced those charges in Canada

October 28, 2011

1 at the same time the U.S. was trying to extradite him on
2 those?

3 A. I have no knowledge of that whatsoever.

4 Q. Have you ever looked at his blog?

5 A. I beg your pardon.

6 Q. Have you ever looked at Paddy Roberts' blog?

7 A. I think I did at one point, very -- well, not his 8 blog so much as his web site, whatever it is that he has.

9 Q. And his stories in the newspaper that he writes,
10 like cannabis and the magazine?

11 A. I've looked at a couple.

12 Q. And he really feels that extradition to the United 13 States is a violation of sovereignty, doesn't he?

14 A. You could put it that way, especially when you can
15 prosecute in Canada and it's not extradition. It's certain
16 times of extradition such as this one where actions take place
17 in Canada and in the United States, and Canada never -- it
18 always turns a blind eye and refuses to prosecute in Canada,
19 and it seems ridiculous that people should be sent out of 20 their homeland and into a -- well, a city like Seattle or in 21 California or all over the states.

22 Q. And you feel that way --

23 A. And typically what happens is that Canada will not 24 prosecute its own people, and that is Mr. Roberts' main 25 concern.

October 28, 2011

1 Q. And you're in agreement or sympathetic to that,
2 aren't you?

3 A. I wouldn't say -- am I sympathetic? Yeah, I'm
4 sympathetic. Am I in agreement? Well, I think extradition
5 process is extradition process. I write books on extradition,
6 and basically of course I take an objective stand on that, but 7 increasingly I think this is disappointing that Canada does
8 not take its responsibility properly in my view.

9 Q. And that it turns over its citizens in to the United 10 States --

11 A. The United States, yeah.

12 Q. Mr. Botting, did you -- have you ever been up to Mr.
13 Rosenau's home in Quesnel?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Why? Is it far?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. How many hours?

18 A. Four or 5. No, it's more than that because --

19 Q. 8 hours?

20 A. Probably 6 hours, yeah.

21 Q. You were his attorney on the extradition, is that 22 correct, just the appeal?

23 A. Yes, to the Supreme Court of Canada only.

24 Q. And your representation began in November of 2010?

25 A. That's correct.

1 Q. And then the appeal was denied when?

2 A. It wasn't denied. It was -- the leave to appeal was
3 not granted.

4 Q. Okay. So not accepted. It was like cert denied.

5 A. Yes, and of course that happens to almost all but
6 200 cases a year out of 3000.

7 Q. By far the majority, isn't that right?

8 A. Right.

9 Q. So when was that done?

10 A. Oh dear.

11 Q. In April?

12 A. I can't recall the exact time.

13 Q. And at that time you had completed or exhausted all
14 remedies on the extradition in Canada; is that correct?

15 A. That's correct.

16 Q. And was your representation of him done?

17 A. Technically, yes.

18 Q. I'd like to hand what's been marked exhibit 4. Mr.
19 Botting, is that a letter that Mr. Platt asked you about, you
20 referenced in your direct testimony?

21 (Exhibit 4 marked.)

22 A. Yes, that's correct.

23 Q. And that's the one that you sent to Mr. Moffat, a
24 lawyer Kip Whelpley contacted in March or February of 2011?

25 A. That's right, and this says I represent Mr. Rosenau

October 28, 2011

1 strictly for his appeal of committal for extradition.

2 Q. Right. Okay. And at that time you indicated your
3 familiarity with this civil lawsuit or civil, you know,
4 whatever it is, lawsuit that Paddy Roberts, using his Gaelic
5 name, had brought against Mr. Whelpley; is that right?

6 A. If you can point that out to me in here?

7 Q. You have had nothing to do but to give advice -- you
8 understand about it. The emails in the second paragraph were 9 between the two people, your name has been used, but you sort
10 of separate yourself from that lawsuit.

11 A. Yes, okay.

12 MS. ROE: I offer exhibit 4.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Platt?

14 MR. PLATT: No objection.

15 THE COURT: All right. Number 4 is admitted.

16 (Exhibit 4 admitted.)

17 MS. ROE: Nothing further then, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Mr. Platt?

19 R E D I R E C T E X A M I N A T I O N

20 BY MR. PLATT:

21 Q. By the way, is it Mr. Botting or Dr. Botting?

22 A. I go by both, but doctor, yeah, is fine.

23 Q. Is it a crime -- well, let me ask you this. Have 24 you had an opportunity to review the email that was sent
25 within the last couple weeks allegedly by Paddy Roberts to Mr.

October 28, 2011

1 Whelpley?

2 A. I read it. I do recall it.

3 Q. In your opinion is that email -- does that
4 constitute a criminal act?

5 A. No.

6 Q. Okay. Not under the laws of British Columbia; is
7 that correct?

8 A. No, I think he's warning Mr. Whelpley that if he 9 comes down to the United States, he would be in contempt of 10 court. That's by context, and indeed, he would be.

11 Q. Now, Ms. Roe asked you about whether or not you
12 separate yourself from Mr. Roberts, and I want to ask you
13 about why. Is one of the reasons you separate yourself from 14 Mr. Roberts because he's a bit of a loose cannon?

15 A. Yeah. You have to be very much -- be very specific 16 and direct with him, and now apparently even if you are 17 specific and direct as you and I have both been, he still acts
18 on his own initiative sometimes, especially in this particular
19 case it almost becomes a project. He initiated the civil suit
20 in the first place, and he may have had the nod at the 21 beginning, but, you know, I chose not to serve this document, 22 and when finally he said, okay, now's the time to serve it, we
23 got to serve it, we got to serve it, we got to serve it, I
24 said, well, make sure you do it in a legal way then, either
25 through a sheriff or process server, and the email came as a

October 28, 2011

1 complete surprise, but it's not illegal, no.

2 Q. Would you characterize his interests in this area as
3 borderline if not totally obsessive?

4 A. Obsessive is pretty close.

5 Q. And it's true and you've been asked about this and
6 testified that your dealings with Paddy, it's very obvious
7 that he feels very strongly about these issues of extradition;
8 is that right?

9 A. Yes, he feels very strongly, to the point that --
10 you know, he doesn't trust lawyers. I don't think he trusts
11 you and I. I don't think he trusts me either, but sometimes 12 he thinks that we are much too conservative, you know, that we 13 don't act quickly enough and he's drafted affidavits that are 14 frankly inflammatory. As I say, he's a loose cannon, and it's 15 very hard to control somebody like that.

16 Q. And have you seen an affidavit that he prepared for 17 this hearing where he talks about how he did this on his own
18 without Mr. Rosenau's sworn affidavit?

19 A. Yes, I have.

20 Q. So is it fair that it's somewhat of a personal issue
21 for him, this whole question of extradition, that he takes it
22 personally?

23 A. Yes. Initially he attempted to have Mr. Rosenau
24 charged in Canada so that any details, you know, that might 25 come out of this, like out of the extradition hearing would in

October 28, 2011

1 fact be dealt with in a Canadian court rather than in an
2 American court and thereby avoiding extradition altogether,
3 and that of course the expectation was that the Canadian court
4 would simply throw it out because there was no -- there was 5 not enough evidence whatsoever. So, you know, that's how he 6 was fighting off the extradition.

7 He did the same thing with Mark Emery (phonetic),
8 just trying to charge him domestically so that the Canadian
9 courts could meet their responsibility. But this is a
10 political ploy on his part. It's strictly a political gambit
11 where he tries to involve himself in other people's business,
12 shall we say, and in this case that's how he I think became 13 involved.

14 Q. And he considers himself or he is the leader of a
15 political party whose stated purpose, one of them, is to 16 secede from the rest of Canada; is that correct?

17 A. That's correct.

18 Q. So does it surprise you that he would go off and act
19 independently even after we've instructed him not to do so?

20 A. Well, it doesn't surprise me. You want to tap into 21 that kind of enthusiasm I suppose at one level, but there are 22 downsides to that in this case. We wouldn't know here if it
23 wasn't for his acting precipitously to try to get this -- Mr.
24 Whelpley served with the results of his litigation.

25 Q. Now, you were asked about your feelings regarding

October 28, 2011

1 the extradition process by Ms. Roe, and I'd like to follow up
2 on that. Is it fair to say that to the extent you have a
3 problem with extradition that you have a problem with the way
4 the extradition was handled in Mr. Rosenau's case.

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. What is it?

7 A. Well, first of all, the record of the case seems to 8 be something --

9 MS. ROE: (Inaudible) with the underlying
10 (inaudible).

11 THE COURT: I'm going to sustain that objection
12 only because we're not going to relitigate the litigation in 13 Canada at this point in this court.

14 MR. PLATT: No further questions. Thank you.

15 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Roe.

16 MS. ROE: Your Honor, I have a point of inquiry.
17 Mr. Platt mentioned an affidavit from Mr. Roberts, and I
18 haven't seen that. Relating that, may I ask --

19 MR. PLATT: We're not offering it, your Honor.

20 MS. ROE: Then I have no further questions.

21 THE COURT: All right. May Mr. Botting step down?

22 MR. PLATT: Yes.

23 THE COURT: And can he be excused if he wants to 24 go?

25 MR. PLATT: Yes, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: All right. Thank you very much, Mr.
2 Botting. And Mr. Platt, additional witnesses?

3 (Witness excused.)

4 MR. PLATT: Your Honor, I have a point of order to 5 inquire.

6 THE COURT: Sure.

7 MR. PLATT: I've never been in this situation
8 before, but if possible, and I normally never ask constructure
9 (phonetic) from the court, but we've debated whether or not we
10 wanted to put Mr. Rosenau on the stand for the very limited
11 purpose of responding to whether or not he directed Mr.
12 Roberts in any way to have this contact. That seems to be the 13 gist of the entire violation. But we would not want him to be 14 in any way considered to be waiving his fifth or sixth
15 amendment right, that he would not be cross-examined on 16 anything to do with the underlying offense, and that we would 17 strictly limit the inquiry to the specific issue of whether or 18 not he instructed Mr. Roberts or authorized or approved this,
19 comparable to a 3.5 hearing.

20 THE COURT: Ms. Roe, what's your I guess position?

21 MS. ROE: Your Honor, I think the appropriate
22 testimony if it's to be so limited would be coming from Mr.
23 Roberts as to his instructions. I think it would be -- since
24 the scope of this hearing has been so broad that should Mr.
25 Rosenau take the stand, it should be equally broad regarding

October 28, 2011

1 the lawsuit, the civil suit, what was expected, really bigger
2 than just a very limited question of whether he got --

3 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Platt?

4 MR. PLATT: I have no response. I would just --

5 THE COURT: Well, I understood your first request
6 as a request to limit the examination as to matters relevant
7 to this hearing, although maybe your idea of the scope of that 8 limitation may be different than the scope as understood by 9 Ms. Roe, and I think what Ms. Roe is saying is that what's 10 before her or what's before the court has this whole issue
11 about what is your client's involvement in this lawsuit, and 12 it's not limited to a few questions about what he specifically
13 said on a certain day to Paddy Roberts or not. So I don't 14 know if that is putting words in Ms. Roe's mouth, but I think
15 I suppose that -- I can't give you an advisory opinion or 16 ruling sort of in the abstract here because as you probably 17 could surmise, I suppose the questions rise and fall on how 18 relevant they are to the question before the court.

19 You know, we're not going to allow a situation where 20 Ms. Roe is going to say, well, let's talk about the charges
21 and helicopters or things like that. Perhaps that would be 22 reserved for trial if your client wanted to testify then, but 23 of course I would have to make relevance determinations as to 24 any question posed in cross-examination as it relates to the 25 issue before me. So that's about all I can say.

1 MR. PLATT: That's extremely useful, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: And I say this, Mr. Rosenau, because 3 you do have a right, as your lawyer is probably indicating, to 4 testify if you want. You have the right not to testify. It's
5 your decision to make between yourself and your lawyer. All
6 right? And so Mr. --

7 MR. ROSENAU: I think I understand.

8 THE COURT: So Mr. Platt, it's up to you how you
9 want to proceed at this moment.

10 MR. PLATT: May I have just one moment, your Honor?

11 THE COURT: Sure.

12 MR. PLATT: Your Honor, this is a very difficult
13 decision, but we have no further witnesses at this time.

14 THE COURT: All right. All right. So I guess I
15 should hear closing remarks. Ms. Roe, why don't you start
16 off, and then we'll hear from the defense.

17 MS. ROE: Your Honor, this is really an interesting
18 question of whether the court's going to enforce the 19 conditions of a release for a defendant who really seems to be 20 unsupervisable at this point. He lives far from the border.
21 Ms. Busic has done a good job and tried to keep in touch, but 22 clearly there have been games being played for the lasts few
23 months.

24 The defendant has a presumption of being detained,
25 and at this point now the government's position is that he,

October 28, 2011

1 through his friend Paddy Roberts, a drug -- a pilot who has
2 been charged with delivering marijuana into the United States
3 also, has acted on behalf of Mr. Rosenau and with Mr.
4 Rosenau's permission.

5 What's interesting about exhibit 4, the letter that
6 Mr. Botting authored, is the last paragraph in which he says,
7 you know, Mr. Rosenau gives instructions and we follow them,
8 and I think it's pretty clear that that's what's happening.
9 Mr. Rosenau is no fool. He had someone else do it. Probably 10 wisely or perhaps wisely, Mr. Botting wasn't going to do it,
11 but he had his friend Paddy Roberts do it under his Gaelic
12 name.

13 Most importantly, too, is that this had nothing to 14 do with an extradition order. This is pure and simple trying 15 to stop a against Mr. Rosenau from testifying and being 16 available in court, and the history of this lawsuit, this 17 notice and defamation suit and this default order is what's 18 amazing here and what's important because it's all done to 19 stop the trial from going forward.

20 No one in this courtroom knows the validity of that 21 Canadian order, so the government cannot ask Mr. Whelpley to 22 ignore it, and we cannot hold him harmless for doing that. It
23 may be a valid order, at least it seems to be at this time.
24 This is an attempt by Mr. Rosenau to thwart the witnesses
25 against him. As such it is a violation of his supervised

October 28, 2011

1 release. He is presumed to have been detained and we ask that
2 he be detained now as he has not conformed and is unable --
3 and the court is unable to assure that he is conforming with 4 the terms of his supervision.

5 THE COURT: All right. And Mr. Platt.

6 MR. PLATT: Thank you, your Honor. I know this 7 hearing has gone long, your Honor, but the reason is it's --

8 THE COURT: No rush. No rush. Go ahead.

9 MR. PLATT: Thank you. Just responding to the point
10 about the term instructions. I worked in London for a while 11 with a solicitor firm, and instruction means whether or not 12 you're retained. That's really what that means.

13 And in that letter what Mr. Botting is saying over
14 and over again is I'm not involved in this. How can I respond
15 if I haven't been instructed. If I'm instructed, I'll 16 respond, and the implication is he wasn't instructed. So to 17 flip that on the other side and say somehow that shows he was 18 instructed is patently absurd.

19 With respect to the violation here, the standard
20 that the court should apply is clear, cogent, and convincing
21 evidence. Obviously the burden here is on the government.
22 Our position is that the evidence at this hearing is far from 23 clear, cogent, or convincing in terms of what happened about 24 this contact by Mr. Roberts with Mr. Whelpley, and there is 25 basically no evidence that Mr. Rosenau in any way authorized,

October 28, 2011

1 requested, approved, or facilitated any action by Mr. Roberts
2 with respect to to Mr. Whelpley.

3 In fact, the only evidence offered in that regard is 4 to the contrary, that Mr. Roberts goes off on his own, he does
5 things on his own, he's hard to control, he was repeatedly
6 told not to have contact and did anyway, that he was told at a
7 meeting where Mr. Rosenau was participating not to have
8 contact with Whelpley, and that he did so anyway. There's no
9 evidence to the contrary. There is zero evidence linking Mr.
10 Rosenau with what occurred here whatsoever, none. So Mr.
11 Rosenau did not authorize the email sent by Paddy Roberts, and 12 he denies any involvement in that.

13 Number two, in addition, all emails other than this 14 email in the last couple weeks were dated prior to the 15 imposition of pretrial release conditions in this case.
16 Therefore, it is essentially impossible for those to be
17 considered violations. That would be an ex post facto
18 application of the conditions of release in this case, back in 19 time. You can't impose conditions and then violate someone 20 because before those conditions were imposed there's an 21 allegation of violation.

22 But we don't even agree it is a violation. Service
23 of process of legitimate legal pleadings which, let's face it,
24 includes notifying someone about the service, that's 25 legitimate. You can call somebody up and say I got to serve

October 28, 2011

1 you with legal papers. It happens every single day.

2 There's also an implication here which we didn't get
3 too far into, but something about the lawsuit in Canada is 4 vexatious. Well, I think every lawsuit is vexatious to the 5 person involved. That doesn't mean it's illegal or it's
6 invalid or it's not proper. There's nothing improper
7 whatsoever about the lawsuit that was prepared here, and 8 there's an implication that somehow that constitutes some kind
9 of interference with the witness.

10 And above all, the question of service of process
11 was brought to the attention of the person who is in charge of 12 reviewing whether or not the conditions are being followed,
13 and that's Julie Busic. Early on in the case, a few weeks
14 after I was appointed, we contacted Ms. Busic, we talked
15 about it. I told her there was a lawsuit. She read her
16 notes, she said that. And she said that she didn't have a
17 witness list, but we assumed for the purpose of that 18 conversation that this would be a witness. We couldn't have 19 been any more above board. We weren't hiding the ball at all.

20 So filing the lawsuit is not a violation, and I
21 think there's an analogy here that is very relevant, and that
22 would be in the context of a dissolution. It is quite common
23 for -- and unfortunate, but quite common that you would have a 24 husband who hits his wife and she wants a divorce. The 25 husband winds up charged in criminal court, and there's also a

October 28, 2011

1 divorce suit pending. The husband no doubt will have a no
2 contact condition imposed, domestic violence no contact order
3 of some kind. He retains counsel. The attorney for the 4 husband may represent him in both the dissolution and the 5 criminal matter. If he represents them in the dissolution,
6 it's quite likely that he would file the dissolution petition,
7 and if there are temporary orders, especially if it involves 8 children and so on, there could be affidavits filed by the 9 husband denying and disputing the subject matter of the 10 criminal case. This is not a violation of the no contact
11 order.

12 Here we have a lawsuit disputing the allegations
13 made by Mr. Whelpley essentially saying that he's lying and 14 he's defaming Mr. Rosenau, and to serve him with such 15 paperwork or to make arrangements for that service could not 16 possibly be a violation of a no contact condition. In fact,
17 I'm not sure, but I recall there was somewhat of a colloquy by 18 the court in the very first hearing where Mr. Rosenau was 19 released talking about you've got Mr. Platt as your attorney,
20 let him deal with all these things, and you admonished Mr.
21 Rosenau not to have any contact, and by implication verified
22 that it would be acceptable if I did have contact, and that's 23 all this amounts to.

24 So we're saying, you know, it's arguable there's not 25 a violation here at all, even by Mr. Roberts, even if he were

October 28, 2011

1 acting with authority, which he was not.

2 So Mr. Roberts acted totally alone. He was told by
3 everyone not to be involved in this, and Mr. Rosenau
4 specifically told him he didn't want to be breached on his
5 pretrial release conditions because of Mr. Roberts' behavior.
6 Personally I never knew anything about any of these emails
7 until they were provided to me a couple days ago. I did know
8 about the lawsuit obviously. But Mr. Roberts -- we're not
9 offering the affidavit because he cannot stay on task. He did
10 supply an affidavit that was absurd, lengthy. We're not 11 wasting the court's time with it, but in that he does say as 12 Mr. Botting indicated that he acted alone without any --

13 MS. ROE: Objection as to something that's not 14 before the court (inaudible).

15 MR. PLATT: Well, it was testified to. So the other
16 argument the government may wish to make is that somehow this 17 lawsuit is illegal. That's why I asked those questions. This 18 is a legal order, it's been properly filed. Mr. Botting
19 talked about that. It was issued by a judge in Canada. If 20 that's a crime, then the judge who issued the order is part of 21 the crime. It's a legitimate legal process. It was approved 22 in advantages by Ms. Busic, and I also asked Mr. Botting, who 23 is an attorney in British Columbia whether or not the emails
24 sent by Mr. Roberts constitutes a crime, and the answer was 25 no. Ms. Roe herself has indicated that we don't know British

October 28, 2011

1 Columbia law, so they can't show here that any crime occurred.
2 It has to be a violation of conditions, and they have to show
3 that by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, which they 4 haven't done.

5 There are some things that weren't brought up in
6 testimony, but they're in the brief filed by Ms. Roe, and I
7 think they should be addressed.

8 There is an implication here of some impropriety
9 with the way we characterize the issue in our response to the 10 government's motion for authorization of deposition, which I
11 take strong issue with. The implication there is that somehow
12 we were hiding the ball on the fact that there was this 13 lawsuit in British Columbia. We obviously weren't. I told 14 Ms. Busic about it early on.

15 Not only that, if you read the conclusion in that 16 document, it's document number 28, in the conclusion we say
17 the government has not met their burden. Instead Ms. Roe
18 inserts a footnote in her brief where she quotes us as saying
19 that there is no issue here. Now, that's a bit of a side
20 issue, but it's there, and I think it needs to be addressed.

21 Our conclusion is very clear. The government had 22 the burden of showing that there were some substantial basis
23 for the request for a foreign deposition. They didn't do it, 24 and the court ruled that in fact they would not be allowed to 25 have this deposition.

October 28, 2011

1 As far as whether or not we knew anything about
2 whether or not the lawsuit would prevent someone from coming
3 to the United States, I don't think anyone in this courtroom
4 is clear on that. That involves law in Canada, and I don't
5 think any of us totally understand it. Mr. Erickson agreed
6 with that.

7 One thing that is interesting about the deposition,
8 though, is apparently the government was requesting a
9 deposition of a witness where there was a lawsuit supposedly
10 preventing him from leaving Canada, and yet nowhere is there
11 any discussion whatsoever of that lawsuit, and yet it's the 12 only witness the government has asked to depose in this case.
13 So that means they set up a deposition apparently without 14 talking to the witness first or they would have found out
15 about this lawsuit.

16 There's also something that wasn't talked about
17 here, which is Mr. Steward (phonetic), Glen Steward, and him
18 being contacted by someone. It's completely unclear, it's far
19 from convincing. There's no indication whatsoever who talked 20 to Mr. Steward. I can assure the court as an officer of the 21 court, I'd be willing to make an offer of proof to this 22 regard. I talked to Mr. Steward, and our conversation was 23 about how I wanted him to testify and I wanted to make
24 arrangements to get him down here to testify at the trial.

25 So casting aspersions on the defense that we were

October 28, 2011

1 somehow impeding Mr. Steward from coming down to testify, if
2 it was Paddy Roberts involved in that, that shows just how far
3 afield Mr. Roberts goes, that anybody telling Mr. Steward not
4 to come down here and testify would be going directly against 5 my strategy as the trial attorney for Mr. Rosenau. So we have 6 no idea what that's about.

7 And further, I can tell the the court Mr. Rosenau
8 was well aware that we wanted Mr. Steward to come down here
9 and testify, and discussions were had talking about getting 10 Mr. Steward down here to testify and what's the best way to 11 make the arrangements, what date would he be needed, that kind
12 of thing. So why anybody -- why Henry would have anything to 13 do with telling Mr. Steward not to come testify is ludicrous.

14 Your Honor, I said this last time and I'll say it
15 again. The issue here is whether or not Mr. Rosenau is going
16 to appear for court and whether or not he's going to interfere
17 with witnesses. The government has offered not one scintilla
18 of evidence that he would interfere with the witness. They've 19 offered evidence that some other person who claims to be 20 acting as an agents of Mr. Rosenau had contact with Mr.
21 Whelpley, and yet they haven't even established that that 22 contact constituted a crime, and they have no evidence that 23 Mr. Rosenau was involved in that contact in any way, shape, or 24 form.

25 The only evidence offered is exactly the opposite,

October 28, 2011

1 that he did not authorize, he did not approve. There's
2 evidence about the meeting we had where Mr. Rosenau told Mr.
3 Roberts not to have contact. There's zero evidence to the 4 contrary.

5 I'll close with what I closed with at the first
6 hearing, which is the presumption of innocence. There is an
7 implication here that this lawsuit is vexatious because it is 8 not well founded and it's not well founded because it can't be
9 true, and it can't be true because everyone knows Mr. Whelpley
10 is telling the truth, and anyone saying otherwise is somehow
11 doing an illegal act. That's like an irrebuttable presumption
12 of guilt. Our presumption is the presumption of innocence
13 applies here. Mr. Rosenau is presumed innocent. There is 14 absolutely no showing that he violated these conditions, and 15 there's no showing that this lawsuit in Canada constitutes any 16 violation of conditions, and it does not constitute a crime;
17 therefore, there is no basis for the government's position.
18 Thank you.

19 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Roe, any brief
20 rebuttal?

21 MS. ROE: No, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: All right. So, Mr. Rosenau, today is a
23 sad day because I will find that there is a violation of the 24 alleged condition. There is a violation of the condition of 25 supervision regarding the contact, and let me kind of, you

October 28, 2011

1 know, set this straight because the arguments have kind of
2 ranged all over the place regarding the propriety of lawsuits,
3 and I think in some ways we're all kind of missing the point
4 here.

5 I'm not here to discuss the laws, extradition laws,
6 if they're good or bad. I'm not here to discuss whether
7 somebody can bring a civil lawsuit in Canada or not. We're 8 here to discuss whether or not there was indirect contact in 9 this case, and your lawyer says that there is no evidence or 10 not a scintilla of evidence in this case, but I think the 11 evidence in this case indicates that there is in fact a very
12 direct connection between you and the contact in this case.

13 Now, we do begin with Julie Busic, the probation
14 office pretrial service unit supervisor, going over the list
15 of witnesses. They're in plain English. Kip Whelpley is 16 there, and for you to tell her I don't recognize any of these 17 names is just frankly not really believable, especially since
18 Kip Whelpley was just sued this year and you're the named 19 plaintiff, and also because his name is in the discovery in 20 this case, and so it would not be a surprise to anyone to see
21 Kip Whelpley as a witness and it would not be very believable
22 for you to say I don't recognize this person at all.

23 I did admit the exhibits presented by the government
24 over the defense objection regarding their relevance, and I'm 25 not here to say that I am relying on them as your lawyer says

October 28, 2011

1 in an ex post facto way saying that the violations occurred in
2 January or February or sometime before May, but I do think
3 that they paint a fuller picture of what's going on, and I do
4 think they are relevant in terms of at least your knowledge as
5 to who Kip Whelpley is in relationship to your case.

6 I think we want to separate the difference between 7 is the lawsuit proper, is the order proper, which I don't have
8 to decide, versus whether there was contact or indirect
9 contact, which I do have to decide. As your lawyer says, it
10 was okay for a lawyer actually representing you to in a lawful 11 way have contact with witnesses to do investigation as 12 appropriate. That's Mr. Platt's job, to go and investigate
13 the criminal side. That's Mr. Botting's job to investigate
14 and prepare the extradition side.

15 Well, Mr. Platt and Mr. Botting didn't act in this 16 case. Instead we have Mr. Roberts, Paddy Roberts, with the 17 argument essentially he's out of control, no one can control
18 him, so just don't blame Mr. Rosenau, but you really can't 19 have your cake and eat it. You can't have a benefit without 20 saying I take no responsibility, it's just a wild and crazy
21 guy doing this. You're the named plaintiff. You're the 22 beneficiary of an order. You're the beneficiary of a lawsuit
23 and an order that still as far as I know stands at this very 24 moment, an order that says you have to pay me money, me, Mr.
25 Rosenau, the defendant in this criminal case, because you're

October 28, 2011

1 ~~lying or you've given lies regarding a criminal case pending~~
2 in the United States, and not only that, you're prohibited
3 from even leaving the country and entering the United States,
4 and that's still a pending order.

5 Now, your lawyer suggesting that, well, maybe the 6 order has no effect because we don't know the effect of the 7 order, and maybe that's true, there is nobody that has 8 testified as to the effect, but that order still stands, and 9 there have been communications regarding this order.

10 And so I do think that putting aside the propriety
11 of filing lawsuits and obtaining orders, and I don't have any 12 problem with that, but we're not here to decide that, that 13 there is evidence in this case given all of the evidence
14 presented of indirect contact. And of course, you know,
15 although this is a wild man that everyone says we can't 16 control, this is your lawsuit. You are the beneficiary of the 17 lawsuit. You are the plaintiff. You're the party in that 18 lawsuit, and if all these things were no good, you would have 19 sent some kind of letter. You would have withdrawn the 20 lawsuit if you wanted to. You would have sent some letter
21 saying I do not authorize any of these things. You would have 22 contacted your lawyers, I do not not authorize any of these
23 things that Paddy Roberts is sending off, please ignore them.
24 That never happened. It's just all Paddy's fault. But 25 Paddy's not going to get the damages. He's not the plaintiff.

1 Paddy doesn't have anything necessarily to benefit from Mr.
2 Kip Whelpley coming or not coming to your trial. That's your 3 case.

4 Regarding Mr. Steward, I do understand your lawyer's
5 point. I mean Mr. Steward is sort of a side issue, and I'm 6 not here to decide anything, and there's no allegation that 7 you had anything to do with Mr. Steward's purported issue of
8 coming to the United States. I don't have to decide that as a
9 violation. That's really not in front of me, just as I don't
10 have to decide whether or not the lawsuit in Canada is 11 vexatious or not. That is not the allegation, that a 12 vexatious lawsuit was brought in violation of a condition of 13 release. The only issue is was there or was there not 14 indirect contact, and I find that there was in this case.

15 Now, your lawyer, find I should say, says that,
16 well, there's no violation because a lawsuit in Canada is not 17 a law violation, but witness tampering or obstruction is, and 18 to the extent -- I suppose the simplest way to say it is to 19 the extent the best defense is to make all the witnesses go
20 away, I think that this is not sort of farfetched to say
21 somebody is tampering with the witnesses because nobody is 22 going to show up for the trial and the trial will go away.

23 So I think that while I'm not here to say that the 24 lawsuit in and of itself standing alone is a law violation
25 under the laws of Canada, I do think in relationship to this

October 28, 2011

1 case not the lawsuit but the contact and the communications --
2 the communication, since it is an October allegation,
3 essentially is one of those situations where one could easily
4 say this witness is being pressured or tampered with, and by 5 the way, as you know, under the witness tampering federal law
6 where it has to do with a witness for proceeding in a federal 7 proceeding, in a federal criminal proceeding, the state of 8 mind is quite relevant. If it happens, it happens, and a
9 violation can occur.

10 So, Mr. Rosenau, I will find that the violation has 11 been proven in this case. The government has moved for 12 revocation in this case, which means a remand to custody. I
13 find that that is appropriate. I know that you have otherwise 14 been doing very well on supervision, but when it comes to an
15 allegation that's not a technical kind of thing like were you
16 around somebody smoking marijuana or did you forget to turn in 17 a monthly report or you forgot to call Ms. Busic on one day,
18 things that perhaps you get a second or third chance, when it
19 comes to witnesses in a case and untoward contact, I think
20 it's grounds for both revocation and remand to custody.

21 Now, this decision of course, as your lawyer will 22 tell you, is reviewable by your district judge, Judge Pechman,
23 and I believe under the rules if you have any kind of appeal
24 or attempt to review, I'm advising you now so that you'll know
25 that you need to do that within 14 days of today's date.

1 Otherwise you might be time barred in doing that.

2 All right. Ms. Roe, anything further from the 3 government?

4 MS. ROE: No, thank you, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Mr. Platt.

6 MR. PLATT: Nothing further. Thank you.

7 THE COURT: All right. So unfortunately, Mr.
8 Rosenau, you're being remanded to custody. You might want to 9 talk to Mr. Platt. If you have any valuables or cars to deal
10 with or whatever, to make arrangements right now. You should 11 remain in the courtroom. The marshall will come and escort
12 you to detention. All right. Anything further?

13 MS. ROE: No, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: We'll be in recess.

15 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Plaintiff,

v.

HENRY C. ROSENAU,

Defendant.

Case No. CR06-157-MJP

DETENTION ORDER

Offenses charged:

Conspiracy to Import Marijuana;
Conspiracy to Distribute Marijuana; and Possession of Marijuana with Intent to Distribute.

Date of Detention Hearing: October 28, 2011.

The Court, having conducted a detention hearing pursuant to Title 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f), and based upon the factual findings and statement of reasons for detention hereafter set forth, finds that no condition or combination of conditions which the defendant can meet will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of any other person and the community.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR DETENTION

Defendant is charged with drug offenses for which detention is presumed. Despite this,

Case 2:06-cr-00157-MJP Document 53 Filed 10/28/11 Page 2 of 4

1 the Court fashioned an appearance bond and ordered defendant released on May 4, 2011. On
2 July 24, 2011, defendant admitted he violated his appearance bond by possessing marijuana.
3 The Court modified his appearance bond and allowed defendant to remain in the community. On 4 October 26, 2011, a petition was filed alleging defendant violated his appearance bond by having
5 indirect contact with a Kip Whelpey, a witness in his case, on October 20, 2011. On October 28,
6 2011, the Court conducted an evidentiary hearing on this allegation. Based on the evidence
7 presented, the Court found defendant had indirect contact with Mr. Whelpey in violation of his 8 conditions of release.

9 Mr. Whelpey is a witness the government intends to call against defendant. According to 10 the government, Mr. Whelpey conspired with defendant to commit the drug offenses. Mr.
11 Whelpey has already pled guilty and served his prison sentence. As part of his plea agreement,
12 he agreed to appear as a witness at defendant's trial this year. However, earlier this year, a civil 13 action was initiated in Canada. The named plaintiff is defendant and the action was brought 14 against Mr. Whelpey, essentially for defamation and alleging Mr. Whelpey has lied about 15 defendant's criminal conduct.

16 The Court need not decide the propriety of this Canadian lawsuit as that issue is not 17 material to decide whether defendant had indirect contact with Mr. Whelpey, which is the 18 violation before the Court. Instead, focusing on the evidence regarding whether defendant had 19 indirect contact with the witness, the Court first finds, U.S. and Canadian counsel for defendant
20 did not initiate the lawsuit and were not involved in contacting Mr. Whelpey. Hence, this is not 21 a case where counsel was fulfilling his proper functions as a lawyer by investigating or 22 contacting witnesses.

23 Second, in June 2011, defendant's pretrial supervising officer reviewed with defendant a

1 written list of witnesses that defendant was not to have contact with. That list included Mr.
2 Whelpley. Defendant told his pretrial supervising officer he did not know any of the witnesses, a
3 claim that is belied by the fact he had been involved in a lawsuit against Mr. Whelpley for many 4 months.

5 Third, defendant is the named plaintiff in his Canadian lawsuit and the sole beneficiary.
6 If he prevails, he will have succeeded in not only obtaining money damages against Mr.
7 Whelpley but also succeeded in preventing Mr. Whelpley, a key government witness, from 8 testifying against him. His direct interest as the sole beneficiary of his Canadian lawsuit
9 evidences his indirect contact with Mr. Whelpley.

10 Fifth, defendant's claim the contact with Mr. Whelpley is the product of an 11 uncontrollable non-lawyer named Paddy Roberts, is unpersuasive. Even if Mr. Roberts initiated
12 the Canadian suit in January 2011, without consulting defendant, defendant has done nothing to 13 reign Mr. Robert's in or direct him to have no contact with Mr. Whelpley. In fact, it appears
14 defendant has succeeded, via Mr. Robert's actions, in obtaining an order directing Mr. Whelpley
15 to pay money damages and prohibiting him from entering the United States. Defendant cannot 16 have his cake and eat it too. He cannot be the sole beneficiary of a law suit against a key
17 government witness and then turn around and claim no responsibility.

18 Based on the evidence presented, the Court concludes defendant violated the condition of 19 release that he have no indirect contact with the witnesses in this case. The Court also concludes 20 revocation and detention are appropriate at this point given the nature of the offense and the 21 nature of the violation. The violation does not involve a technicality such as failing to submit a
22 monthly report. Instead, the conduct involved in this case involves sophisticated actions to 23 influence and prevent a witness in this case from appearing and testifying in this case.

1 It is therefore ORDERED:

2 (1) Defendant shall be detained pending trial and committed to the custody of the 3 Attorney General for confinement in a correctional facility separate, to the extent practicable,
4 from persons awaiting or serving sentences, or being held in custody pending appeal;

5 (2) Defendant shall be afforded reasonable opportunity for private consultation with 6 counsel;

7 (3) On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the 8 Government, the person in charge of the correctional facility in which defendant is confined shall
9 deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection
10 with a court proceeding; and

11 (4) The clerk shall direct copies of this order to counsel for the United States, to 12 counsel for the defendant, to the United States Marshal, and to the United States Pretrial Services
13 Officer.
